Ruth has accumulated and arranged the record of the descendants of Rev. John Harmon Nichols. We are grateful to her. She has in her bedroom the cherry chest that Moses Jared made for Elizabeth Raulsten for a wedding present when she became his bride. The chest belongs to Daisy Blue. I visited Daisy and Ruth in the fall of 1960 and was delighted with their quick wit, generosity and enthusiasm. Both are active in the Methodist Church.

Lewis’ mother, Annie Elmo Grimes Nichols, was left widowed with a family of seven to raise. However strict her discipline, she was never able to suppress the keen sense of humor and enjoyment of a ridiculous situation, which she bred into them. Lewis was especially a trial to her with his acute sense of humor. He saved himself many a walloping by making his mother laugh. He'd say, “Ouch, Mom, quit that, you play too hard!”

One day he had provoked her last shred of patience and even the ingenious Lewis was able to foresee the deserved tanning that was coming his way. Annie had him bended over her knee and the shelalie raised for the blow, when Lewis cried, “Hey, Mom, wait a minute!” She freed him for a second, as it was obvious that he had some object in his pocket. In his moment of reprieve, he dug deep into his pocket and pulled out a thin dime.

Here, Mom,” he said humbly, “this is my last Dime, but I want to give it to you before you kill me.”

Lewis and Lila are most delightful people to be with. A keen sense of humor is still predominant in their lives and they are generous and courteous entertainers. I shall always remember their guided tour of the Nashville area, including the Upper Room and the Hermitage.

Uncle Felix Whitehead was a big man who stood six feet six inches in his stockings. He loved religion and used to get real excited and do a lot of shouting at the meetings. One day he shouted so loud, and gestulated so extravagantly that his old sleeping dog under the bench though he was sending him for something. The dog went out and hunted up a skunk in the woods and ran it right into the Church. The Glory of the Meeting that day was wafted to the Heavens on the lively breeze of a departing congregation. Nobody blamed the dog. He didn’t know what they wanted him to do.”

He was born four months after the death of his father and as a result superstition grew up around him. It was believed that he had supernatural powers of healing and even after he was an old man, people would bring their babies to him if they had “Coated Tongue,” or “Thrash,” or a sore throat. They would ask him to blow in the baby’s mouth to cure its ailment.

Moses A. Jared was the father of twenty children, thirteen by his first wife and seven by his second. On August 3, 1961, his 134th birthday anniversary, he had four children still very much alive and active. They were May Taylor living with her son, Rev. Jared Taylor in California, Missouri; Mark Anthony and Newton J. Jared living in Springfield, Missouri; and Mrs. Betsy Ann Cox living at West Plains, Missouri.

Moses A. Jared married (1) 15 August 1847 Marinda Jane Price, born 1 March 1830, Putnam County, Tennessee She died 14 November 1874; married (2) 22 February 1876, Sarah Arena Thompson, born 15 October 1843, at Cookeville, Tennessee, daughter of E. MARTHA “PATSY” JARED DESCENDANTS

*15 MARTHA “PATSY” JARED 3 (William 2, John 1) born 10 Oct 1795, daughter of William and Elizabeth (Raulsten) Jared; married 12 June 1821 in Putnam County, Tennessee Lawrence Byrne, born 8 August 1798, Burke County, North Carolina, died 19 January 1854 at Jasper, Putnam County, Tennessee, son of William and Rhoda (England) Byrne. Lawrence was a brother of Malinda Byrne who married Patsy’s brother Moses. Patsy died 10 April 1832 in Putnam County, Tennessee A letter from Elizabeth (Raulsten) Jared to Jane (Simmons) Raulsten gives the circumstances:

At home, May 7, 1832

Dear Sister,

I avail myself of this opportunity of writing to you that you may once more hear the language of your old friend and associate for I never expect to see you again unless you visit your old settlement for I am utterly unable to travel any distance but thee hope to see you and brother James sometime and would be glad to hear from you often as I am deprived of your company.

I am in tolerable health at present. ... I must here relate the death of Patsy Byrne who took her departure on the 10th of last month. She left home about seven weeks before she died and came here on horseback but was very much fatigued when she arrived and gradually grew weaker until the period of her dissolution. She expressed the strongest confidence in God until the last and gently sank to rest in the arms of the dear Redeemer. You must know something of the trouble I feel which is inexpressible but it is much appeased when I contemplate the happy time when my children shall all, with all the followers of Immanuel be restored again to their parents where parting shall be no more.

Yours affectionately until death

To Jane Raulsten Elizabeth Jared

There are three of the children and grandchildren of William and Rhoda (England) Byrne whose descent does not come through the Jared line. They are, however, among our closest kin. William Byrne and Rhoda England are, of course, the ancestors of all the descendants of Moses Jared, whose wife was Malinda Byrne. Their oldest son, Bryce Collins Byrne, born 5 May 1797 in Burke County, NORTH CAROLINA died 1888; married 1819 Ann Raulsten, oldest daughter of James and Jane (Simmons) Raulsten. James was a brother to Elizabeth Raulsten, wife of William Jared 2 (John 1) and the ancestors of the Simmons branch of our family. A letter gives conditions in Arkansas about 1850:

_Crooked Creek, Arkansas._

_June 8, 1851_

_To Lawrence Byrne_

_Dear Brother_

_I embrace the present oppitunity (sic) of informing you that we are at this time in the enjoyment of reasonable health. We have had sickness in the family and death has visited us. Our Dorcus is no more. She departed this life on the 13th of last month, at 12 o’clock. She was taken about twenty days._

_The health of my family has not been very good for the two last weeks. Mary Ann and L. V. has been unwell, but are up again. William’s health is not improving this summer, there appears to be more sickness this spring and so far this summer than has been since we have been in Arkansas._

_Harvest has just commenced here and the prospect is flattering, the wheat is better than I ever saw. The season has been very dry here, but the crops of corn and oats look very well. The price of corn is .50 cts a bushel, wheat will probably be worth about 50 cts, bacon is worth about 8 cts per lb., a common cow and calf is worth about $8.00, beef will be worth about 20 cts, coffee is worth from 16 to 20 cts, sugar_
10 to 12. Dry goods a little on decline but dear enough yet. I have no political news that is very interesting, not being the year of our election. Save that a member of congress, the Democrats Nominated Johnson for reelection and I presume he will have no opposition. ... The families of the son-in-laws are in reasonable health. ... Myriam has a daughter two months old and Elizabeth a daughter borned the same eve that Dorcus died. They have named them both for our dear lamented child. I conclude with a hope of good news from you.

NAOMI JARED DESCENDANTS

*16 NAOMI JARED 3 (William 2, John 1) born 17 September 1797 in Jackson County, Tennessee daughter of William and Elizabeth (Raulston) Jared; married John Simmons 5 October 1815.

As a boy John Simmons accompanied his parents to what is now Franklinton, Louisiana His sister Jane married Colonel James Raulston and remained in Tennessee When British invasion of Louisiana appeared imminent young Simmons joined the 13th Louisiana Militia. In the engagements near the city the British were defeated with great losses.

When the emergency was over, John Simmons contacted Colonel Raulston and accompanied him back to Nashville, Tennessee There he met and married Colonel Raulston’s niece, Naomi Jared. They later moved to Missouri when the Civil War began. He was a Southern sympathizer and it nearly cost him his life. Threatened with arrests for having served Confederate cavalry in his shop, he refused to be taken. His daughter Elizabeth seized a hoe and, holding its sharp point over the head of the Union soldier whose pistol was leveled at her father, shouted, ”Shoot and I will sink this hoe in your brain!” This display of courage and devotion struck at the heart of the Union commander. He ordered his men out, congratulated Elizabeth, saluted and left.

John Simmons died 1 October 1868 and was first buried near Thomasville, Missouri His wife Naomi Jared died in Mountain Grove, Missouri, 24 December 1876 and was buried in the Old Cemetery. John’s remains were later moved and reburied beside her. For information on a part of John Simmon’s ancestry see The Pickens Family by Kate Pickens Day.

John Bascom Lee, 14 March 1833, born 14 March 1814, died 4 June 1857, leaving a family of small children; married (2) Rev. Perry Upton who died and was buried in Arkansas during the Civil War. They had no children. She died 30 October 1906. Frank A. Robinett has written about his grandmother, Elizabeth Jared Simmons, as follows:

"Elizabeth Jared Simmons was as courageous a character as her times produced. As a widow with a number of small children she lived in a newly settled area during the turbulent times leading up to the Civil War. She then married Perry Upton, a Methodist preacher. When the tides of war threatened them with starvation, the family was loaded into a covered wagon and driven to Arkansas to be near relatives. He later died there. Before leaving Missouri they hid their valuables, such as they were, in what she called a ‘bee-gum tree."

"After the war she drove home and found everything she had owned burned and stripped. She drove sixty miles through the woods to get salt for her family to use and to buy a cow, which she led home on foot. Wild fruit, berries, wild game and corn furnished the family’s food. She carded her wool and wove it, and she raised and wove cotton for cloth. The family made all the clothes they wore."

"She used the help of her children and built a log house. Later on she made her home for thirty years with my mother, and grandma was a respected person in our household. Never do I recall my father ever showing any displeasure at having a mother-in-law permanently living in his home. She always took first place."

"She lived a great life and died on her birthday —89 years old."

"She was a devout Southern Methodist and was always seen in her place in church."
