From Genealogical and Personal Memorial of Mercer County, New Jersey, p. 704:

"The emigrant ancestor of this family was Jan 'Janse' Ver Kerken, who came from Bruennielzen, a town on the River Linde, near Bruen, Holland. He embarked on the good ship 'Rostree' with his wife, Mayke, and children, and upon his arrival at New Amsterdam in 1663, with his family, took up his abode at New Utrecht, Long Island, where he settled and became possessed of large tracts of land. His wife, mayke Gisberts, appears on the assessment rolls of new Utrecht in 1675-76-83-93. Jan Janse Ver Kerken attained to positions of trust and responsibility. He was magistrate from 1679 to 1684, and was one of the patentees in Dongan's Patent in 1686. He took the oath of allegiance in 1687. His will was dated November 10, 1688. Two of his children -- Geertge and Barendje -- came with their parents on the ship 'Rostree.' Cornelius Janse Ver Kerken emigrated some time prior to 1693, and died here prior to 1608. The other two children -- Roelef Janse and Aerd Janse -- were born in 1654 and 1655, respectively. ..."

Notes for William Clendaniel:

The last will and testament of William Clendaniel, Sussex County Probate 1744, is dated 31 December 1744. In this will he leaves to Margret, his wife, who is also named executor, one horse and one mare called Booback.

To John Clendaniel, "100 acres of land with the plantation whereon I live..." ; also one trading gun, one ewe, and three pounds in money.

To daughter Rachel, one "heffer" and one ewe, three pounds in money, and three plates to be delivered to her at age of 16.

To daughter Betty, one three-year-old heffer and one ewe, three pounds in money, and three plates to be delivered to her at age of 16.

To daughter Abigail, one heffer, one ewe, three pounds in money, and three plates to be delivered to her at age of 16.

The will was witnessed by Joseph Spencer, Donovan Spencer, and John Clendaniel. William Clendaniel and John Clendaniel both signed the will with an "X". This will was probated 25 January 1744/45; Delaware Archives Volume A65, page 1, registry of wills, Liber A, folios 356-357; orig ff 387-388 (Sussex Co. Probate Records 1680-1800)

On 2 August 1773, a Donovan Spencer sold John Clendaniel land. John Clendaniel was a witness. It is believed the John Clendaniel to whom the land was sold was William's brother. The witness, John, may have been William's son.

William is buried in a cemetery on Frank Watson's land, 4 1/2 miles east of Milford, east of Cedar Neck School, on a dirt road. Reading for this cemetery was taken on 11 November 1929. Donovan Spencer is also buried there.

Notes for John Clendaniel:

A deed from the Sussex County DE deeds, record book O, No. 14, John Clendaniel (sic), pages 200, 201, and 202, dated 5 May 1790, records the sale of land from Luke Spencer, administrator of the last will and testament of Alexander McCay, late of Sussex County. The tract of land is in Cedar Creek Hundred, south side of Mispillion Creek, and is called "Pennington," surveyed and laid out for 400 acres of land and marsh on 8 March 1688 to Henry Pennington. Transferred from Pennington to Thomas May who gave the land as gifts to sons, Thomas and Draper May. They sold to Alexander McCay 100 acres on the upper most end adjoining on the head of a branch coming out of the Mispillion Creek known by Saltriges Branch. Alexander McCay sold 50 acres to William McCay. Thomas McCay died, leaving Luke Spencer as executor, and said Spencer sold to John Clendaniel (sic) 50 acres for 145 pounds. Mention is made of the lands of John Kirk, Harts Patent, Harts line, William and John _____mans land, Saltriges Branch, 2 November 177____.

Flax Pond branch is mentioned as a landmark.

A deed from Sussex County, DE, record book M, No. 12, John Clendaniel, pages 532, 533, dated 2 August 1783, conveys land to John Clendannet (sic) from Donovan Spencer. This tract of land is between the mouth of the Mispillion Creek and Cedar Creek known by the name of "Long Branch" which Abraham Wynkoop bought from the heirs of Robert Hart, the original patentee. Wynkoop sold to George Black, who then transferred land to his eldest son, John Black, who sold to Donovan Spencer, Sr., and then land went to Donovan Spencer, Jr. who then sold 14 of the 28 acres to John Clendannet, in the presents of Isaac Beachamp and William Beachamp. (Cedar Creek no longer exists.)
