

WINGO LINE

I do not know the origin of the typed sheets from which I have taken the following story of the WINGO family. The quoted material down through Thomas Wingo, Jr., is copied from that source, (given to me by Mary Alice Wingo and given to her by Mrs. Rowena Mayson).<sup>1</sup> I have added other material in footnotes..

"The Wingos originated in either Holland or the Rhine region of Germany. They probably Came to America To escape the destruction wrought by the wars of Louis XIV. This Would put the time of their immigration between 1660 and 1720.

"We know that John Wingo was already living in Amelia County, Virginia when it was formed from parts of Prince George and Brunswick counties in 1735. To get any records prior to 1735 I will have to write to those counties.

"Prior to the Revolution Amelia County was known as Ralleigh Parrish and Amelia County. It is in the piedmont region of Virginia and very similar in appearance to Spartanburg County. The Wingos were a prominent family in the county, and when a new court house was needed in 1786, it was erected on Wingo property.

"On the following pages are brief sketches of our earliest direct ancestors.

1. JOHN WINGO (1680 - 1756). "John Wingo may have been the first Wingo to come to America, but it is more likely that his father was the original settler in this country. We know nothing of John Wingo prior to 1735. In that year Amelia County was formed from two older counties and all records prior to that year would be in the original counties. We do not know his wife's name, but since she is not mentioned in his will, we can assume she died relatively young. John Wingo had six children: James, Thomas, William, Elizabeth Hill, Mary Stuart, and Savannah Harris. In his will, John Wingo left one shilling to each of his younger children and gave all his property and belongings to his eldest son, James. His personal property was appraised at 37 pounds sterling."

<sup>1</sup> "The Rowena Morgan Mayson that is mentioned at the beginning was my Great Aunt. I believe that Aunt Rowena was the author of the typed sheets and that she did the original research when she lived in the Washington, D. C. area during WW II." Ref: e-mail from David Hunter Brown to Dan W. Olds, 27 Nov. 1997.

<sup>2</sup> Landreth, Moneka, in a draft version of an attempt to place the early male descendants of John Wingo, says "John WINGO (d. 1755) named 3 sons in his Will, Thomas, William and James. William never lived in Amelia Co. as far as I can find in the records there. I believe he was the William WINGO, Sr. in King William County. Either James, Sr. or JR. d. in Charlotte Co., Va." [with a letter from Moneka to Marvin R. Wingo, 29 Aug. 1988]

2. THOMAS WINGO. "We know even less about Thomas Wingo than we know about his father. He was probably born between 1700 and 1725. We cannot place his date of death because he did not leave a will. He and his wife Jane<sup>3</sup> deeded the land they lived on (200 acres) to their oldest son John in 1761. In 1764 Thomas sold 34 acres to their other son, Thomas Wingo, Jr., for five pounds sterling. There is no record of any other children. Thomas Wingo died sometime between 1765 and 1785." [I later found in the journal of Samuel Seay of Amelia County, VA, that "Old thomas wingo departed this life October the 27" in the year 1788 [Thompson, Mrs. Arthur A]

This Thomas Wingo is said to have married a daughter of John and Mary Butler based on the fact that the will of their son, John Butler, Jr., named his nephews George Ridley, Price Butler, Penel Josiah Drinkwater, and John Wingo. This will was written in 1759. It is not yet clear to me why this could not have been a nephew of Martha, wife of John Butler, Jr. The will of John, Jr., is taken to imply that he had a sister who married a Wingo and one who married a Ridley, neither of whom were mentioned in the will of John Butler, Sr., written 23 May 1710 and probated 9 June 1719, and so presumably born after the will was written.<sup>4</sup>

3. THOMAS WINGO, JR. (1740 - 1766) "died while still a young man (about 26 years old). At his death he left all of his property to his wife Sarah and his four children: William, Obediah, Thomas, and a daughter, Oney. His wife, his brother John, and his father, Thomas Wingo, Sr., were all made executors of the estate. At their maturity, each child was to have an equal share. This was an unusual will for that era. The children must have all reached maturity by 1784, because in that year they sold the property to their uncle, John Wingo.<sup>7</sup> Their mother, Sarah, was

<sup>3</sup> Her name is also spelled Jean as in the Amelia County Court Oder Book 8, p. 591, 24 May 1765: "Ordered that the churchwardens of Nottaway Parish bind out Mary D__ Baldwin Daughter of David Baldwin to Thomas Wingo and Jean his wife according to Law."

<sup>4</sup> The Butler information is presented in a letter from Moneka Landreth to Marvin Wingo, 11 Oct. 1988, with copies attached.

<sup>5</sup> Moneka Landreth, in the same reference, says: "Thomas Wingo was married twice. First wife was a BUTLER. Second wife was Jane _____. John Sr.'s [referring to son of Thomas] older sons, John, Jr., Abner, and Zachariah were definitely in Spartanburg Co., S. Car. And died there. <sup>6</sup> Ten of his children are listed by David Hunter Brown, e-mail to Dan W. Olds, 27 Nov. 1997. They are: John Washington Wingo (b. 2 Oct. 1761, Amelia Co., VA, m. Mary, dau. of Jessey Seay and Betsey Lyon, 9 Dec. 1786, Amelia Co., VA, and d. 19 Dec. 1852, Spartanburg Co., SC); Joshuah Wingo (b. abt 1762); Mary Wingo (b. 26 June 1765, Amelia Co., VA, m. apparently dead by that time.

“After Thomas Wingo died, his brother John took over the responsibility for raising his children. John Wingo had twelve children of his own, but he was a very rich man and could provide for four "extra" children easily. Thomas' children evidently looked upon Their cousins as brother and sisters, because they were closely tied for the rest of their lives.

“In 1785, Obediah Wingo moved to Spartanburg County and gradually became a wealthy land holder. He married twice and had a total of 16 children.<sup>8</sup> In 1793, William Wingo (Obediah's brother) and three of his first cousins (John Wingo, Zachariah Wingo, and Abner Wingo), also moved to Spartanburg County. They were all familiar with this area because they had been through here during the Revolutionary War.

[At this point I leave the unknown author of Wingo material and tum to History of Spartanburg County by J. B. O. Landrum, 1900.]

According to Landrum, the Wingo family came from Cumberland or Halifax counties, VA. John Wingo was a Revolutionary Soldier who married Polly Seay in Virginia and soon after the Revolutionary War they moved to Spartanburg County. Twelve children are listed for them. His brothers Zachariah and Abner Wingo also came to Spartanburg from Virginia.

4. WILLIAM WINGO, called "Billy" Wingo, and a first cousin of John Wingo, is presumably that same William Wingo, above, who was a son of Thomas, Jr., and who came to Spartanburg County in 1793. According to Landrum's History, William Wingo married twice and had three children by his first marriage. They were Mrs. Reuben Gramling, Thomas Wingo and John Wingo. Thomas Wingo moved to Missouri some time in the 1840's and married four times. John Wingo was called Johnnie Crust or Blinkey Johnnie to distinguish him from other John Wingos. He married Cintha [the spelling used by Landrum] Wood "and had children as follows: Hamilton, who married Caroline Hawkins; Calvin, who married Polly Wingo; Polly who married Manning Ross and went to Texas; Simpson, who married Jane Wingo; Franklin, who married Lizzie

<sup>8</sup> His Spartanburg County will names first wife Oney Seay and second wife Obediance Ligon and the eight children by each.

<sup>9</sup> Moneka Landreth, in the same reference, says: "Thomas, Jr. (No. 2), had 3 sons, William, Obediah, and Thomas, Jr. (No. 3). William and Obediah settled in Spartanburg Co., S. Car., and died there. They were first cousins to John, Jr., Abner, and Zachariah.

Of the eight sons mentioned, all entered the Confederate army, all served their country faithfully during its existence, and all survived to return to their homes after its close."

The following long quotation details more about the life of William Wingo.<sup>11</sup>

"William Wingo was born in Amelia County in 1760. He was raised by his uncle, John Wingo, Sr.<sup>12</sup> When the Declaration of Independence was signed in 1776, William Wingo was sixteen years old. He enlisted as a regular in the First Virginia Regiment on the 20th of April, 1778. Fifty-five years later (Oct. 3, 1833), he dictated and signed a statement in the Spartanburg clerk of court's office on his service. His memory for dates and sequence of events was uncanny for so much time to have elapsed. Here is the story in his own words:

I enlisted in the continental service on the 20th of April, 1778, for a term of eighteen months, in the regiment of the state of Virginia. We marched from Amelia County to Fredericksburg. We were then divided into four divisions, whence I fell under the command of Major Lewis. From thence we marched through the states of Maryland and Delaware to within [sic] fifteen miles of Philadelphia and met Colonel Parker with orders from General Washington to return to Petersburg in Virginia. On our arrival in Petersburg we were divided into three divisions. I fell into the First Regiment under General Scott. The other two regiments were commanded by Colonels Parker and Hopkins.

In June 1779 we left Petersburg and marched through North and South Carolina and entered the state of Georgia at Augusta, about the last of August. In September we marched to Savannah and joined General Lincoln with the South Carolina and Georgia troops, and on the 9th or 10th of October commenced the siege of Savannah, General Lincoln on the right, the French troops in the center, and Col. Parker on the left. (NOTE: They were defeated by the British with heavy losses.)

After the battle we returned to our encampment and remained a few days. Then, Parker's regiment, to which I belonged, marched to Augusta and went into winter quarters. About the middle of February, 1780, we marched to Charleston, South Carolina, and there joined General Lincoln sometime in April. The British attacked the town (April 8) and the siege continued thirty one days and the town surrendered on the 17th of May, 1780. (NOTE: The surrender was May 12, 1780.)

<sup>11</sup> Based upon appearance, format and content of these pages and the fact that one page matches in the two segments I have, this is from the same source as the quoted material at the beginning of this Wingo Line. This copy was sent by Joseph Wingo of Arizona to Moneka Landreth in the winter of 1987 and the handwritten notes may be Moneka's.

<sup>12</sup> Handwritten not added: "I doubt this. Sarah, Thomas Jr.'s (d. 1765) widow, remarried (John Foster, son of William, was her second husband). I expect she reared the children while Thomas Wingo, Sr., was security for the proportionate share of Thomas Jr's (d. 1765) estate for his orphans, William, Oney, and Thomas, Jr. (No. 3, d. 1828) and John and Thomas were for Obediah. Joshua Chaffin was also security with Thos. Sr (d. 1783) for William, Oney & Thomas, Jr. (No. 3)

I remained there a prisoner until the 28th of June 1781 (13 months), whence I was exchanged and conveyed by the British to Virginia and then marched by Captain Parker to Williamsburg. I was then discharged regularly by Captain Parker in July, 1781. I declined my discharge to Lieutenant Chaffin to draw my wages (He had not been paid since February, 1779 – Nearly 2 ½ years) and was afterwards informed by him that it (the discharge) was left in the State House at Richmond.

“William Wingo was to have a long wait for his wages. He was paid 50-16s-19p on June 10, 1784. He finally received a pension settlement of $280 on November 24, 1836. He was 76 years old and the war had been over fifty-five years.

“At the war’s end, William Wingo was 21 years old. He returned to Amelia County and his uncle John’s house in 1781. In 1784, he and his brothers and sister sold their father’s property to John Wingo and his brother Obediah moved to Spartanburg County. In December, 1786, William Wingo married Loraney Loving.<sup>13</sup> His uncle John put up the “security” money to Loraney’s father. They had three children: John, born 1787, Thomas, born in 1789, and a daughter born in 1791 who would become the wife of Reuben Gramling. Loraney died in 1792 or 1793, probably in childbirth (although there was a small pox epidemic in 1791/2 that could have killed her.)

Up country South Carolina was still a sparsely populated woodland in the 1790's. The Spartanburg District had been formed along with Laurens and Union districts out of the one Ninty [sic] Six District in 1785. On the west and north it was still bordered by the Indian Territory. There had been no whites in the area prior to 1755, when it was ceded to South Carolina by the Cherokee, and the last Indian attacks had taken place during the Revolution. The future city of Spartanburg was an unincorporated village with a one room log court house, a log jail, a whipping post and stocks, and a few widely scattered houses.

It was a land that called for tough, self-reliant people who had the determination to survive the hardships of wilderness living and prosper. It was a land that suited these families perfectly – government was practically not existent, land was cheap, and every man would rise or fall by his own efforts.

They all settled in the Mt. Zion area, near the North Tyger River and Fair Forest Creek. Besides Obediah Wingo, who was already here, these were the only Wingos in South Carolina. Up to the Civil War all the Wingos in South Carolina lived in Spartanburg County. They were all descendants of this family.

On October 16, 1797, William Wingo bought 350 acres from John Foster for 40 pounds sterling. The location was given as being on Beaver Dam. His next recorded purchase was on February 3, 1816, when he bought 127 acres on Fair Forest Creek from William Perrin for $700. Thus he eventually owned at least 457 acres.

<sup>13</sup> Another handwritten notation: I used to think this was the way it was. But Elizabeth Wingo, Norfolk Co., VA, found Luraney (Uraney) Wingo in Charlotte Co., Va., in 1793 and her William had died that year. It appears to me that William married Mayr Holt in Amelia Co., Va., in 1783 and his youngest brother, Thomas, married a much younger Mary Holt (b. 1778), probably a second wife, ca. 1803. S. Car. Deed show Wm’s second wife was Fanny.

After 1817 we can find the following facts on William Wingo: He deeded 75 acres to his son John on the North Tyger River in 1822, probably as a wedding gift; he applied for a pension settlement for his Revolutionary War service in 1833, at the age of 73. He was finally paid $280 in 1836; he died in 1839, age 79.<sup>14</sup> He was probably buried at Mt. Zion Church, but the markers are gone now and certainty is impossible. Or, like his cousins, he may have been buried at home.

William Wingo was presumably married in Amelia County, Va. There are, in fact, several Wingo marriages in Amelia County at about this time (say, before 1800). Here are the Wingo grooms:<sup>15</sup>

- 18 May 1780. John Wingo and Frances Seay. Sur. Archer Cheatham.
- 23 Nov. 1783. William Wingo and Mary Holt, who writes her own consent. Sur. John Foster
- 7 September 1784. Obediah Wingo and Oney Seay, dau. of Jesse Seay, who consents. Wit. to consent, Gibson Seay and Larkin Ferguson. Sur. Larkin Ferguson.
- 9 Dec. 1786, William Wingo and Lurany Loving, dau. of William Loving, who consents. Wit. to consent, John Wingo and Abner Wingo. Sur. John Wingo.
- 9 Dec. 1786. John Wingo and Mary Seay, who writes her own consent. Wit. to consent, William Wingo and Abner Wingo. Sur. William Wingo..
- 22 May 1788. Abner Wingo and Elizabeth Seay, dau. of Gideon Seay, who consents. Wit. to consent, Thomas Seay and _____ Seay.
- 17 Dec. 1788. Churchill Wingo and Mary Seay, who writes her own consent. Witn. to consent, Reuben Seay, James Seay and John Wingo, Senr. Sur. Rawley Fossett.
- 22 Dec. 1791. Zachariah Wingo and Sarah Fossit. Joshua Chaffin's request for this license says "my daughter." Sur. Robert Ferguson. John Wingo consents for son, Zachariah. Wit. to his consent, Sam Jones and W. T. Townes.

"Which brings me to the 2 marriage bonds for William Wingo in Amelia Co., VA. in 1783 and 1786. The signatures on the original bonds do not look alike but have been very confusing with John Foster having been security on the 1783 bond and then John, Jr., & Abner Wingo witnessing William Loving's letter of consent and William and John having been each other's security.

"Elizabeth Wingo felt that William who married Lurany Loving was Thomas, Jr.'s (d.1765) son, which seemed reasonable except that she found Uraney Wingo had re-married in Charlotte Co., Va. 20 Feb. 1800 and Uraney m. James Arnold. Lurany's Wm. Died in Charlotte Co., Va. in 1793, leaving 4 children. No way could he be S. Car. William. In 1812, Lucy Wingo, daughter of Uraney Arnold m. James Cammell. Well, the William in Spartanburg Co., S. C. was still living <sup>14</sup> Handwritten note: "William was still living in June 1840 and was 81 years old, living with a John Wingo, presumably his son, "Johnny Crust". there as late as June 1840 – and he was the only one who could have been Abner’s, John, Jr.’s, and Zachariah’s first cousin. And the S. C. William was married twice, too.

“I think the William who married Polly Holt in 1783, whose security was John Foster, was the son of Thomas, Jr. (d. 1765) and step-son of John Foster.

“I recently got some S. C. deeds and in 1823, William and his wife, Fanny, sold land or gave land to his son John, witnessed by son Thomas.

“It think Luraney m. William (b. ca 1756) son of James, Jr., son of John (d. 1755). Either James Sr. or James Jr. was in Charlotte Co., Va. in 1798 when one of them sold the last of their Amelia Co. land.”<sup>16</sup>

Ambrose continues the line from here with more detail. My notes are from a copy she sent me which includes several post-publication additions. She states that William "Billy" Wingo was born ca. 1760 and died 1834, age 74 years according to pension file. The Index of Revolutionary War Pension Applications shows two entries for Wingo -- John of Virginia (R11716) and William of Virginia (S7896). Both might be of interest for this research. The DAR Patriot Index (p. 753) John W. Wingo, b. 2 Oct. 1761 and died in 1847 who married (1) Frances Seay and (2) Polly Seay and also lists William Wingo, b. 1760 and probably died 3 Oct. 1833, a private in Virginia. What show as death dates in the Patriot Index is, instead, the date of application for a pension. Mrs. Thompson's article mentions that the 1788 will of Jacob Seay of Amelia County, VA, mentions a daughter Frances Wingo.

Children of William "Billy" Wingo [as given by Landrum]

- i. Mrs. Reuben Gramling
- ii. Thomas Wingo, moved to Missouri in the 1840s and married four times. Landrum's Mt. Zion says he moved to Missouri about 1838, was a Deacon of Mt. Zion Church and "when he would go to church, or to his farm work, he would often go in a run, so anxious was he to perform his duty well.
5. iii. John "Crust" Wingo

5. JOHN T. WINGO ("Johnnie Crust" or "Blinkey John") 26 Feb. 1787 (Lorene corrected this to 25 Feb. from some Bible record) in VA (according to the Spartanburg Co. census record). He married Cynthia Wood who was born 30 March 1797, although listed as age 65 in the 1860 census of Spartanburg Co. John was listed as age 63 in 1850 and age 71 in the 1860 census. John died 12 Dec. 1871 and Cynthia died 8 June 187-. (Lorene says the dates for John and Cynthia were supplied by granddaughter Ellen Wall.)

The 1850 census of Spartanburg Co. (from Lorene) lists:

John Wingo	63, farmer, b. SC
Cynthia	53
Franklin	22, farmer, b. SC

The copy of Landrum's Mt. Zion history sent by Lorene seems to be missing page 11 but the copy reprinted in the Poole genealogy contains the following (page 241) about this John Wingo:

"John Wingo, Jr., (sometimes called Johnnie Crush to distinguish him from others of the same name,) was a man of pure principles, of an untarnished christian character -- a good citizen, a kind neighbor, and an affectionate father. He was, a soldier of the war of 1812, and in the late war gave eight sons to the army who performed their duty well, and all returned to their home while others had fallen in that great struggle. He departed this life not many years since at an advanced age."

Children of John T. and Cynthia (Wood) Wingo (from Lorene)

- i. Wm. Hamilton Wingo, b. 11 Oct. 1821, m. Caroline Hawkins
- ii. Calvin Wingo, b. 19 Feb. 1823, m. Polly Wingo; age 27 with wife Polly and son Ransom in 1850 census of Spartanburg Co.
- iii. Polly Wingo, b. 24 Sept. 1824, m. Manning Luther Ross; she was 24 in the 1850 census of Spartanburg Co. and he was 27.
- iv. Joseph Simpson Wingo, b. 25 June 1826, d. 25 Feb. 1887 or 89. He married Sarah Jane Wingo (5 Feb. 1828 - 30 Dec. 1905), a daughter of Ransom and Polly (Dodd) Wingo. Simpson served in Co. E, 2nd Regt. SCV Calvary.
- v. John Franklin Wingo, b. 23 April 1828, d. 26 Sept. 1898. He married Elizabeth Royston (1842 - 1925). Both buried at Mt. Zion Church. Her tombstone gives additional information: J. Elizabeth Wingo, Nov. 20, 1842 - Feb. 28, 1925.

- vi. Maiden Wingo, b. 4 Oct. 1829, d. single. buried where?
- vii. Wiley Frederick Wingo, b. 3 Aug. 1831, d. 1878-1880. He married Theresa Cunningham (b. 12 Dec. 1843, d. 13 Sept. 1915).
- 6. viii. Andrew Jackson Wingo, b. 18 Sept. 1833, d. 15 March 1914. He married Margaret E. McMakin.
- ix. Lewis Landrum Wingo, b. 15 Feb. 1836, d. 9 March 1913. He married Mary C. Berry.
- x. Memory C. Wingo, b. 4 Nov. 1839, d. 15 June 1875. He married Mary Pennington
- xi. Jency(?) Wingo, b. 21 Feb. 1842, not in 1850 census.
- xii. Nancy Wingo, b. 2 April 1844. She married Robert Reynolds.

6. ANDREW JACKSON WINGO was born 18 Sept. 1833 and died 15 March 1914. He married Margaret E. McMakin who was born 24 Feb. 1837 in South Carolina and died 7 June 1919. She was a daughter of Benjamin C. McMakin. Andrew Jackson Wingo served in Company E, 2nd SC Con., and a confederate cross marks his grave at Mt. Zion. I found no marker there for Margaret and no dates for Jackson Wingo.

Jackson and Margaret Wingo were not yet married at the time of the 1850 census, but the 1860 listing (Fort Prince P. O.) is as follows:

A. J. Wingo	24
Margaret	23
Mary E.	1

The following notice appeared in a listing of Confederate Veterans published in the Spartanburg Herald of Wednesday, 17 August 1910:

"Wingo, Andrew Jackson, born Sept. 18, 1833, Wellford. Enlisted Jan. 1, 1862; Co. E. 2nd SC Cav. Capt. Geo. B. Dean. Farming."

Also listed:

"Wingo, Lewis Landrum -- Born Feb. 15, 1836, Beech Springs township, Spartanburg county. Enlisted Jan. 1862, Co. E, 2nd S. C. Cav., Capt. Geo. B. Dean. Promoted to Corporal. Farmer."

The family is listed in the 1870 census of Beech township, Spartanburg County, pp. 73-74:

Andrew Wingo	36
Margaret	35
Mary	11
Julia	6
John	3
Leah	1
Benj. McMakin	61

The 1880 listing is in Beech township, p. 90:

On Friday, March 20, 1914, the following letter, titled Jackson Wingo, appeared in the Journal and Carolina Spartan:

"Please allow me a little space in your valuable paper to make a little mention of the death of our beloved brother, A. J. Wingo, who died last Sunday, 15th inst., near Campobello and was interred in the cemetery at Mt. Zion Monday at 2:20 o'clock.

"The writer can say of Mr. Wingo that he was a gentleman and true Christian, also a good counselor for young men, and was worthy of imitation.

"Mr. Wingo was the last of the eight sons of the late John and Cinthia Wood Wingo. These eight, namely, Hamilton, Calvin, Franklin, Wiley, Jackson, Lewis and Memory Wingo [sic -- only seven listed] all entered the Confederate army and served their country faithfully during its existence and all survived to return to their homes after its close.

"Jackson Wingo married Margaret McMakin, who survives him.

" C. A. Wingo, Roebuck, S.C."

Landrum's History lists the confederate service of some of these Wingo brothers (and others):
 p. 509, Andrew J. Wingo, wounded at Fredericksburg, Robert Wingo, wounded at Spottsylvania, J. Frank Wingo, Ransom Wingo wounded at Sutherland Station, Alberry Wingo, all privates in Company C, 13th Regt., S.C.V. in which George W. Wingo was a Corporal.

p. 523, Memory C. Wingo wounded at Frazier's Farm, seriously, and 2nd Manassas (Co. D., Palmetto Sharpshooters)

p. 535, A. Jackson Wingo, J. Simpson Wingo, T. Calvin Wingo, Thos. W. Wingo wounded at Brandy Station August 1, 1863, all in Co. E, 2nd Regt., SCV

On 21 March 1914, the following appeared on page 6 of the Spartanburg Herald, under the heading of Mount Zion.

"Mt. Zion., March 20. The funeral services of Mr. Jackson Wingo of Campobello were held here Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. His death has cast a gloom over the entire community, as he once lived near here and has been an consistent member of the Mount Zion Baptist Church for a number of years. He lived a simple, unassuming life, true to his home, true to his church, and was loved and respected by every one. He was 82 years old and was the last member of a large and prominent family. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Wingo; four daughters, Mrs. Julia Cooper and Mrs. Leah Settle, of this place; Mrs. Carrie High, of Gowensville, and Mrs. Essie Cooper, of Holly Springs; two sons, Mr. John Wingo, of this place and Mr. William Wingo, of Campobello, and a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

"The funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. J. L. Ouzts, and Rev. J. R. Aiken, of Fairforest, followed by interment in the church yard. The floral tributes were many and beautiful."

SC death record 1919-12327 shows that Margaret Wingo, widow, died near Inman, SC, on 7 June 1919, at age 84. Her parents were Ben McMakin and _____ Wade. The informant was J. L. Wingo and she was buried at Mt. Zion by Floyd Mortuary. She died of a broken hip.
