1875.01.12

In the case of the State vs. Ellen Shanley, the capias heretofore issued was returned not found. An alias capias was then issued, made returnable forthwith. As yet there has been no return.

1875.07.09

ON Wednesday of this week, at 7 o'clock in the evening, Mr. Robt. Sherry and Miss Mary Elizabeth Sullivan, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, by the Rev. Father Stiles, of St. John's church, of this city. The wedding was a fine affair, but the reception at the house of the bride's mother was one that will long be remembered by the scores of persons who were present. Over one hundred and fifty persons took supper. The supper was prepared by Mrs. Jacob Durst and Mrs. Shanley, and being present we can speak of that supper but not to do it justice. Such all and everything to make an epicure glad and happy, and outside of the more solid viands came forth wines and liquors of the choicest and most costly kinds, and well they made the hearts of many to grow glad and their countenances to shine. All this was but the introduction to more convivial enjoyment. Every heart was glad to see the beautiful bride so elegantly attired in flowing robes of rich silk, led forth by her husband to take part in the mazy dance and all the bewildering pleasure connected with the tripping of the light fantastic toe that followed, and well has Byrou said:

"No sleep till morn when youth and beauty meet,
To chase the glowing hours with flying feet."

When we left hundreds of our citizens and quite a large number from Wheeling were enjoying the whirl of the giddy dance. Taking it all in all, it was one of the most enjoyable occasions that has taken place in this city for years. The whole affair was conducted in the most quiet and orderly style. The house was ablaze with light from the street to the roof, and every one seemed to feel that it was good for them to be there.

1878.01.04

MRS. SHANLEY, of Bellaire, has been confined to her room with rheumatism for six weeks past.

1878.09.04

Madame Shanley was arrested for violating the Sunday ordinance, and fined $5, and costs $8 80. This is the second party arrested within a few days for the same offence.

1879.10.31

Ellen Shanley was up before Mayor Cassell yesterday, on a charge of selling whiskey, preferred by Thomas Daugherty. Daugherty claims that the said Ellen Shanley sold whisky to his wife after being warned not to do so. Ellen says that "before God" she wouldn't sell the woman whisky "no-how." The matter will come up for adjudication before the Mayor again today at 9 A. M.

1880.07.30

Mrs. Shanley has purchased the property that she lives in from Peter Loecher, of Wheeling, for $2,000.

1881.03.11

Robert Gray, of Franklin Station, reports that he took up his abode at Mrs. Shanley's hotel on Wednesday evening, and upon arising in the morning he was minus his watch and $16 in cash. He was in the city yesterday, looking up the matter.

1882.02.07

James Johnson had a fuss with Mrs. Shanley yesterday morning, and was arrested by Marshal Criswell.

1882.04.26

As this is the last week of grace for saloonists many of them are cogitating over the twofold question that is staring them in the face for negative or affirmative action, on their part, viz: pay or close, which? In sauntering around the streets about 10 o'clock last night our Bellaire man dropped in upon some of the Union street saloonists to ascertain their intentions.

"Coon" Rumbaugh—"I guess I'll pay."

August Schramm—"I'll quit."

John J. McDermott—"Haven't decided."

John Watt—"Will pay the license and go ahead."

Mrs. Bumbright—"Will close up."

Wm. Shundewolf—"Want to loaf awhile, anyhow. I'll quit."

Lewis Long, Jr.—"Will likely close, but I don't know yet."

Wimmer—"Will pay no attention to it and go ahead."

A. W. Shepherd—"Will shut up and quit."

Maule—"Will stop short off."

Tom Lilly—"There's a trade here, and I will go ahead."

Mrs. Shanley—"I'll pay and stay."

By this time our special train came along, and our further meanderings were cut short. Our reporter was informed, however, that nearly all the saloons, with the exception of those mentioned, will close out next week. It is very certain that if they go before Judge Kelley they will have nothing to expect, and nearly all are willing to close up without incurring any expense. There will not be over five or six saloons left in the city.

1882.05.26

Mrs. Shanley is the only one of our saloonists caught up by the last Grand Jury. They are making it quite lively for Ellen. Only the other day she had to put up fines to the amount of $40 for keeping such a saloon.

The Grand Jury, at its recent session, found the following indictments:

Wm. Cowen, robbery.

Frank Sherwood, burglary.

John Stark, grand larceny.

Thos. Shaver, obstructing the highway.

Grant Shaffer, carrying concealed weapons

Grant Shaffer, selling liquor to a minor.

Ellen Shanley, selling liquor to a minor.

Grant Shaffer, selling liquor to a person in the habit of getting intoxicated.

They failed to find true bills against Henry Leonhart, charged with larceny, and Frank Bamberg, arson.

Only one liquor seller in this county (James Foley, of Flushing,) has paid the tax required by the bond law. The others are waiting to hear the decision of the Supreme Court before depositing any funds with the Treasurer, and they have five more days of grace. There will be fewer men pay the money now than if they had been compelled to pay the 1st of May. The prospect of a lock out at the mills is what bothers them.

1882.06.06

Mrs. Shanley was up before the Mayor, charged with keeping her saloon open on Sunday. She was fined $20 and costs.

1882.08.01

Ellen Shanley, a saloonist, and a colored man had a row, Saturday night, in which the woman was struck on the neck, when she banged a beer glass at the negro and opened his head.

1882.08.13

Mrs. Ellen Shanley is charged before Mayor Cooper with selling liquor on Sunday to a young man named Robinson, whose father makes the complaint.

1883.01.04

It is alleged that, on Friday, December 29, 1882, Mrs. Ellen Shanley passed a counterfeit ten dollar bill on Mr. S. D. Corbett, the Union street grocer, receiving change in good money for the same. Mr. Corbett on making the discovery went to Mrs. Shanley and asked her to take it back, which was refused. Mr. Corbett visited her the second time, and again asked her to take it back. She still refused. Squire Criswell went to her and told her she had better take it back or she would get into trouble. And still she refused to take it back, and says she will fight all the law in the United States before she will take it back. Mr. Corbett proposes to have her arrested.

1883.03.05

Mrs. Ellen Shanley recently attached the wages of a boarder in the employ of the B & O R R Company. The company kept the money as alleged by her and never gave her matter any attention, and now she has entered suit against the company for failing to answer as garnishers. The suit was brought before Squire Criswell and will take place this morning at 9 o'clock. James Tallman will appear for Mrs. Shanley.

1883.03.06

In the suit of Mrs. Ellen Shanley against the B & O R R Co., yesterday, before Squire Criswell, mentioned in yesterday's Record, she was allowed judgment against the company for $21.

1883.05.23

Mrs. Ellen Shanley was indicted by the grand jury, for the unlawful sale of liquor. This is not the first time for Ellen, but heretofore when the time for her to appear at court came around she has always managed to be sick in bed. This time she was not notified in time to have her physician make a certificate of her disability to attend court. The first information as to the date of her trial was on Monday morning, when the officer drove up to her place of business with a hack and told her to get ready to go along. She tried various excuses, but they wouldn't go down, and she was accordingly bundled up and taken to St. Clairsville.

1884.03.28

To-morrow (Saturday) the Democratic primaries will be held at the following places: First ward, hose house, Second ward, Mrs. Shandley's; Third ward, Mayor's office; Fourth ward, C. N. Allen's office; Fifth ward, hose house.

Below are the places to vote to day:
First Ward—Hose house.
Second Ward—Shanley's room, Union street.

1888.09.02

It was thought that Casper Glass got $300 judgment against Mrs. Shanley, through Lawyer E. B. Kennedy, but it turns out that the judgment was only $3, and when the proper party came to collect the claim Mrs. Shanley was ready and paid the sum.

1889.01.05

Mrs. Ellen Shanley died yesterday of dropsy, after an illness of several weeks, aged 55 years.

1889.01.11

Mrs. Robert Sherry has been appointed administratrix of the estate of the late Ellen Shanley.

BELLAIRE.

B. B. Festival—Sunday Chimes.

The Ohio base ball festival Saturday night was a grand success, both financially and otherwise. The cake, which was frosted with the letters "Ohio Base Ball Club," and which was up for contest, was awarded to Frank Hindman, the Democratic candidate for Sheriff, he having the lucky number, 27. The cake-ring, a ring that was contested by the lucky party finding a tin ring in his piece of cake, which was equivalent to the cameo ring which was being contested, was drawn by Clem V. Leach, of Gravel Hill. Little Mollie Bamford, of the Fifth ward, was in the field for a fine cameo ring with Hannah Shanley. The ring was awarded to Miss Bamford, she having $60, while her opponent, on account of sickness, was unable to get any money on the ring. The club took in $140.46 for the two nights, and their expenses will probably reach $35 or $40. The boys are all jubilant over their extraordinary success, and say they will have new uniforms now. Samuel Rollins kindly furnished his organ for the occasion, for which the club take this mode of returning their thanks to him and also the many persons who aided them in their festival.

1881.02.25

Miss Hannah Shanley was charged with assault and battery upon Mary Riley, yesterday. The Mayor fined her $2 and costs, which was paid.

1883.12.03

DEATH ON THE RAIL

Word was received here yesterday that Buck Shanley, a young man living in this city, was killed by the cars near the Allegheny depot last night. Shanley has been braking on the C. & P. R. R. It appears that he was passing over some box cars to set the brakes, when suddenly he fell between them and was killed instantly. He was about 23 years old, and was a son of Jerry Shanley.

1883.12.04

It turns out that it was not Buck Shanley who was killed in Allegheny on Saturday night.

1887.06.13

"Buck" Shanley, who was arrested on Saturday for cutting up a little caper with Constable Dunfee, was released on bail.

1890.09.27

BELLAIRE.

The well known Dennis Shanley died at the home of his sister, Mrs Mary Sherry, Thursday evening, of consumption, aged 29 years. He had been in poor health for a long time. The funeral will take place from St. John's church to-day at 9 o'clock.

1874.09.26

CASE SETTLED.—The case of Frank Shanley, charged with assault and battery on "Bud" Long, before Squire Caldwell, was compromised before it came to trial, the complainant withdrawing the charge.

1875.07.20

The case of Milligan, Hersberger & Co, vs. Frank Shanley, was continued until next term.
