DATES

For the most part, many conflicting dates were easily straightened out by simply rechecking the source material or official records. In some cases, however, marriage dates may vary from other published works because the researcher used the date of a marriage bond, or the date a marriage license was issued, instead of the actual marriage date. Even though some of the source material I used did not specify the origin of the marriage date given, I have tried to differentiate the marriage dates as accurately as possible. In a number of cases an approximate date of marriage, using the abbreviation "ca." for circa (about), is shown based upon information provided in various census documents.

Another dating problem involves the recording of marriage banns. A couple's intentions to marry, or banns of marriage, were generally proclaimed in church on three consecutive Sundays, and if no legal impediments precluded the couple from being married, their marriage would be sanctioned after the third proclamation. Unfortunately, the first or second proclamation will sometimes be cited as the marriage date instead of the third. I must admit, however, that this is difficult to avoid in some cases because of missing or damaged records.

Death dates may also vary in that the date of burial, or the date a will was written or submitted for probate, will sometimes be cited by others instead of the actual death date. In those cases where I was unable to verify which of two dates was correct, I generally went with the one that referenced the most credible source material, or simply used the year only.

One of the most common dating conflicts involves the use of the old Julian Calendar versus the new Gregorian Calendar. On 14 September 1752, the new Gregorian Calendar was officially adopted in both Great Britain and its colonies in North America. When the Gregorian Calendar was adopted two very important changes were made. First of all, a needed correction was made to the Calendar by adding eleven days. As such, 2 September 1752 was followed by 14 September 1752. And secondly, the first day of the year then became January 1. Prior to that date, the Julian Calendar was in effect and the first day of the year was March 25. As a consequence, many dates found in the 1600's and first half of the 1700's for the months of January, February, and March reflect, or should reflect, a double date, such as 15 February 1735/1736. Even though both dates may be perfectly acceptable based upon the calendar that was in use at the time, to be consistent with current dating procedures the second date is most accurate. Unfortunately, it is not always possible to tell what the double date should be, and the date shown in this write-up is what was reflected in the document used.

When reading numerical Quaker dates from Meetings in the American colonies prior to 1752, it must be remembered that the calendar in use at that time by the Quakers was the Old Style, or Julian Calendar, which began the year in the month of March, not January. As a consequence, numerical dates found in most Quaker records can be interpreted as being two months off of our currently used New Style, or Gregorian Calendar, which was adopted in America in 1752. For example, a Quaker numerical date which may have been written as the 4th day of the 6th month, 1734 should be interpreted as 4 August 1734 under our current calendar, not 4 June 1734.

LOCATIONS

With respect to the location at which an event took place, there were many cases when it was not possible to find any record giving the exact location that a birth, marriage or death took place. Because I feel quite strongly that dates should always be accompanied by places, if for no other reason than to aid future research, I made a number of assumptions regarding location based upon available information. For instance, if a family is found in the Fayette County, Indiana census records for 1840 and 1850, and they also show up in the deed and tax records of that county for the same period, I did not feel that it was unreasonable to assume that any children they had during this period were probably also born in Fayette County. In some cases, however, my comfort level with assuming a possible location was limited to a colony or state only.

NEW ENGLAND COLONIES

With respect to the area of the United States that now encompasses New England, territories were strongly identified as “Colonies” or “Plantations.” Even though these colonies or plantations were occasionally merged, underwent boundary adjustments, or were renamed “Provinces,” they existed in some form until the Colonies severed their ties with Great Britain at the onset of the Revolutionary War.

Although it became somewhat tedious to continue citing the full name of a particular “Colony” or “Plantation” throughout this write-up, if one is at all concerned about the accuracy of the dates and relationships cited in a genealogy, it seems equally important to me to try and be as accurate as possible regarding where an event transpired.

As such, this genealogy will attempt to show the specific governing designations that were in effect in New England at the time an event took place. When, necessary however, current locations may also be cited. Beginning with the signing of the Declaration of Independence on 4 July 1776 (4 May 1776 for Rhode Island), which declared an end to colonial rule by Great Britain in New England, the use of state names will be shown.

THE ALLEN SURNAME

The name Allen (also Alan, Allan, and Allyn, etc.) comes from the Scottish word "Aluinn" meaning fair or handsome.

DESCENDANTS OF GEORGE ALLEN
ENGLAND AND SANDWICH, MASSACHUSETTS

GENERATION ONE

1. George Allen. *

George Allen, the immigrant ancestor of many of the Allen families found in North America today, arrived in Massachusetts Bay Colony on 6 May 1635 from England.¹ George Allen's name, along with the names of those individuals he came with, 106 in all, was found on a list of passengers who departed Weymouth, England for the New World on 20 March 1635.^{1,2,3} Unfortunately, the name of the ship they traveled aboard has never been determined. This party, which was under the leadership of the Rev. Joseph Hull, was granted leave on 8 July 1635 to settle 21 families at Wessagusset Plantation by the General Court at Boston.^{4,5} Wessagusset was soon given municipal rights, at which time it was renamed Weymouth, and its inhabitants were allowed representation before the General Court at Boston.⁶

Although it is not known for sure, George Allen may have been born in either Dorsetshire, or Somersetshire, England, or have at least resided in one of these shires prior to emigrating. Lending some support for this belief is the fact that the Rev. Joseph Hull, and many of the other families that emigrated with George, appear to have been from one of these shires.⁷

Although George Allen is known to have been married twice while still residing in England, the name of his first wife has not been determined. His second wife, however, was a woman named Katherine.^{2,3} Katherine, who accompanied George to America, is believed to have been the mother of his five youngest, or "least" children, as described in George's will.^{2,3,8} According to the roster of passengers making up the Hull party, Katherine was listed as being thirty years old in 1635, thereby indicating that she had probably been born in about 1605 in England.^{2,3}

(NOTE: Although one commonly sees postings and family write-ups that indicate that our George Allen is the George Allen who married as his second wife, Katherine Starkes, on 5 November 1624 in All Hallows Church, Honey Lane, London, I know of absolutely no documentation that would support that this is our George Allen. On the contrary, there is evidence that indicates that this George Allen was the son of Richard Allen of the Tower of London, and that he was still residing in London, England as late as 1640 when he was mentioned in the will of his brother, Henry Allen. This George Allen is also believed to be the same George Allen who died at St. Michael Queenhithe, London on 26 March 1664.

In addition to the above, it has also been accepted by some that our George Allen was the son of John Allen of Saltford in Somersetshire, England. As with the above assertion, there is absolutely no evidence that I know of to substantiate this either. There is, however, strong evidence that indicates that this George Allen was still residing at Saltford in 1638 when he was involved in a court case regarding tenements in the Tything of Saltford. By 1638, our George Allen was already well established at Sandwich on Cape Cod. In addition, I have been in contact with a descendant of John Allen of Saltford, and was told that no connection between our George and the Saltford Allens has ever been substantiated through their research either. Aside from the fact that a person named George Allen is known to have been residing at Saltford, England during the 1630's, everything else appears to be nothing more than wishful thinking.

The same also appears to be true regarding the assertion that our George Allen was the son of Ralph Allen of Thurcaston, England. Even though there were two individuals named Ralph Allen who were associated with our George Allen in New Plymouth Colony, I am not aware of any evidence, other than name similarity, to support this contention either).

Although George Allen is known to have owned lands at Wessagusset (Weymouth), he and his family may have actually been residing at Saugus, later renamed Lynn, prior to moving to the newly organized settlement of Sandwich on Cape Cod in New Plymouth Colony.⁹ Even though no record of George residing there has been found, it appears that all of the original Sandwich Proprietors came from Lynn.⁹ Sometime during the period 1637/1638, George and Katherine and several children apparently settled at Sandwich in New Plymouth Colony.⁹

George, who was a farmer by trade, was recommended for "Freeman" status in New Plymouth Colony on 5 March 1638/1639.⁹ Shortly thereafter, on 4 June 1639, he was sworn in as the Constable of Sandwich.⁹ George Allen was later admitted as Freeman of New Plymouth Colony on 3 September 1639.⁹ He served as Surveyor of Highways in 1640, and as a Committeeman for the New Plymouth Court during the years of 1640, 1641, 1642, and 1644.⁹

George Allen apparently died during the latter part of April 1648 at Sandwich in New Plymouth Colony, as he was subsequently buried there on 2 May 1648.¹⁰ His last will and testament was later probated before the New Plymouth Court on 7 June 1648.⁸ One year later, on 8 June 1649, his widow, Katherine, furnished an inventory of George's estate to the New Plymouth Court.⁸ Sometime after George passed away, Katherine married for a second time to a man named John Collins who was a shoemaker at Boston in the Massachusetts Bay Colony.^{1,11} When Katherine moved to Boston, her three youngest children, namely Henry, Samuel and Gideon, moved to Boston with her.^{9,10}

Although the identities of all of George Allen's children have never been determined beyond all doubt, family information provided for the town records by George's son, Henry Allen, when he moved to Milford in the New Haven Colony (in what is now the state of Connecticut) indicate that George Allen probably had eleven children.¹² Henry stated that he was the son of George and Katherine Allen of Sandwich and gave the names of five siblings; Ralph, George, Samuel, William, and Matthew, and further stated that there were five others.¹²

In addition to the above six children, we also have verification that George had a son named Gideon who administered the estate of his step-father, John Collins, in 1670, and a daughter named Rose whose husband, William Newland, referred to William Allen of Sandwich as "brother-in-law" in his will.^{9,12} Aside from the eight children who have been verified through various documents, three other individuals, namely John Allen, who held lands at Weymouth that were originally granted to George Allen, Robert Allen of Sandwich, who was residing in John Allen's home at Rehoboth when he committed suicide, and was referred to as being John's brother in the Plymouth Colony records, and Francis Allen, who was a resident of Sandwich, was an early member of the Quaker Church at Sandwich, and was not a son of the other Ralph Allen, are strongly believed to be sons of George Allen.¹²

(NOTE: In addition to the eleven children named above, some researchers also believe that the Joan Allen who married Clement Briggs at Dorchester in 1630/1631, and the Joshua Allen who married Mary Crowell at Yarmouth in 1671, and the James Allen who resided at Martha's Vineyard are also George's children. After spending considerable time researching these three individuals, I could not find one shred of evidence that indicated that they even knew George Allen, much less were related to him. As such, I do not believe that these are George's children, and have therefore not included them as such in this genealogy).

It should also be mentioned that the "five least children" that George Allen referred to in his will have not been verified beyond all doubt either.⁸ However, these children, who have been interpreted by most authorities to be the five youngest children that George Allen had with his second wife, Katherine, are believed, based upon their estimated ages, various documents, and other factors, to be Matthew, William, Henry, Samuel, and Gideon.

GENERATION TWO

NOTE: Only the author's pedigree ancestor and known siblings are covered in this generation.

2. John Allen.

John Allen, undoubtedly a son of George Allen and his first wife, may have been born as early as 1605 in England.¹³ This is based upon an entry in his last will and testament which stated that he was “in his 85th year.”¹³ Whether or not John’s stated age is accurate can be debated, however I personally have not found any other documented evidence that supports a different birth year for John. John was later married in about 1636 in the New Plymouth Colony to a woman named Christian.^{12,13} Although no record of this marriage has been found, it may have taken place at Weymouth, where John is known to have been residing until 1643.³⁶

Prior to 1643, John and Christian were residing at Weymouth, where John held three parcels of land that had originally been granted to his father, George Allen.¹² In 1643, however, John and Christian joined with a number of others who departed Weymouth to found a new settlement at Seekonk, later called Rehoboth, in the New Plymouth Colony.^{36,37} At the first meeting of the original planters of Rehoboth, which was held at Weymouth on 24 October 1643, John Allen and his brother, Ralph Allen, were both granted lots.³⁷ On 12 April 1648, John Allen was chosen to be the Town Constable for the following year.³⁷

According to available New Plymouth Colony records, John’s brother, Robert Allen, committed suicide in his home at Rehoboth on 15 May 1661.¹⁷ John Allen subsequently informed the Rehoboth Court on 10 June 1661 about his deceased brother, Robert Allen, and stated that Robert had “three cows, two young steers, and three young calves at Sandwich”³⁸ Based upon an inquest held on 22 April 1662, the Court rendered a verdict that Robert Allen “came by his death by laying violent hands upon himselfe.”¹⁷

According to the New Plymouth Colony records, in 1667 the Court of Jurisdiction of New Plymouth granted “unto Captain Thomas Willett and his neighbors” the right to become a township “to be called and known by the name of Swansea.”³⁹ John Allen, apparently a neighbor of Captain Willett, was therefore listed in the record as being one of the original grantees and founders of Swansea in the New Plymouth Colony.³⁹

According to the records of the town of Swansea, John Allen died on 3 May 1690 at Swansea in Bristol County in the New Plymouth Colony.¹⁴ His will, which had been written on 12 March 1689/1690, was subsequently admitted for probate before the Bristol County Court on 27 May 1690.¹³ Although John's widow, Christian, is known to have survived John, the date and place of her death have not been determined.¹³ With the exception of their daughter, Elizabeth Allen, all of the other children listed below were named in John Allen's will.¹³ Their exact order of birth is not known, however.

Known and probable issue: (Surname Allen)

13. John ----- b. in New Plymouth Colony (eldest)¹³
 m. (remained single).⁴⁰
 d. 1723 at Swansea, Bristol Co., Province of Massachusetts Bay.⁴⁰

3. Rose Allen.

Rose Allen, the eldest daughter of George Allen and his first wife, is believed to have been born in about 1609/1610 in England.^{9,12} Rose was apparently married twice during her life. She married first, probably in New Plymouth Colony, to a man named Joseph Holloway (also written Holway).^{9,12} Joseph, who was a millwright by trade, is thought to have been born in about 1605 in England.^{12,46}

Sometime after their marriage, Joseph and Rose appear to have settled for a short period of time at Dorchester in the Massachusetts Bay Colony.¹² In about 1637, however, they moved to the newly established settlement of Sandwich in New Plymouth Colony, where they apparently resided for the remainder of their lives.¹² While residing at Sandwich, Rose became very active in the Quaker movement and was often persecuted for her beliefs.¹² Joseph Holloway died at Sandwich in 1647.^{12,46,47} Although Joseph Holloway does not appear to have left a will, an inventory of his estate was taken on 4 December 1647, and testified to by Rose on 10 January 1648.⁴⁷

After her first husband passed away, Rose married at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony for a second time to a man named William Newland on 16 May 1648.^{10,12,46} This was also William's second marriage, having previously been married to a woman named Elizabeth Smith.¹² William and Rose resided at Sandwich throughout their married life together.

William Newland died during the month of April 1694 at Sandwich in what had recently become Barnstable County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay.^{48,49} His last will and testament was dated 26 August 1690, and an inventory of his estate had been testified to by his only daughter, Mercy Edwards, on 26 June 1694.^{48,50} William's daughter, Mercy, was appointed Administrator of William's estate on 29 June 1694, and even though certain portions of the estate were settled on 6 July 1694, probate was not carried out until 6 May 1695.^{48,50} Although Rose is known to have still been living when William wrote his will, she appears to have died shortly before him in 1694, as William did not have time to change his will.^{9,12,48,50} Rose also died at Sandwich in Barnstable County.⁴⁸

 bur. 4 September 1658 in New Plymouth Colony. ⁴⁶

4. Ralph Allen *

Ralph Allen, the son of George Allen and his first wife, is believed to have been born in about 1615 in England.¹² Although it has not been determined when he arrived in the Massachusetts Bay Colony, it is known that he did not travel on the same ship as his father, George.^{2,3} This Ralph Allen, who is known to have held lands at Weymouth that originally belonged to his father, George Allen, moved in 1643 with his brother, John Allen, to Seekonk, later renamed Rehoboth, in the New Plymouth Colony.^{36,37} However, he eventually settled at Sandwich, also in the New Plymouth Colony, where his father, George, had settled.^{9,12,15}

According to available records, our Ralph was generally referred to as a planter and wheelwright, and in certain documents he was also referred to as Ralph Allen, Sr., such as the burial record of his daughter, Mary, in 1675.^{9,12,15,19} This was apparently to distinguish him from the other Ralph Allen who resided at Sandwich, who was married to a woman named Esther Swift, and was a mason by trade.^{9,12,15,19} Although our Ralph is thought to have been married sometime around 1630-1635, it is not known at this time whether he married in England, or after he arrived in the Massachusetts Bay Colony. Our Ralph Allen is believed to have been married to a woman named Susannah.^{9,12,15}

In 1657, while residing at Sandwich, Quakerism began spreading throughout the Colony, and Ralph and six of his brothers and sisters were apparently among the first to be "convinced."⁵⁸ Unfortunately, the adoption of Quakerism by the Allen's resulted in their being persecuted and fined for many years for practicing their faith.⁹ Their persecution was particularly acute for refusing to take the Oath of Fidelity which they felt was unlawful.^{9,38}

During the years 1663 and 1672, Ralph purchased land at Dartmouth in the New Plymouth Colony, which he later conveyed to his children and grandchildren.^{9,59} Even though he was living at Sandwich at the time of his death, it is believed that he and Susannah probably resided at Dartmouth for a few years. Ralph is mentioned in several deeds as being "of Dartmouth," and in 1684 he was involved in an agreement with three others to build a gristmill there.⁵⁹

Ralph Allen died in 1698 at Sandwich in what had become Barnstable County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay.^{16,49} His will, which was dated 18 December 1691, was admitted for probate on 1 July 1698 before the Barnstable County Court.¹⁶ Ralph was subsequently buried, as directed by his will, "in the Friends Burying place at William Allen's in Sandwich."¹⁶

32. Zachariah ---- b. at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony. ^{9,16}
 m. (unknown). ^{68,69}
 d. probably at Westerly, Washington Co., Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations. ^{68,70}
33. Mary ----- b. at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony. ⁹
 bur. 18 April 1675 at Sandwich, New Plymouth Colony. ^{9,15}
34. Patience ----- b. at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony. ⁹
 m. 10 June 1680 to Richard Evans at Newport, Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations. ²⁴
 d. 4 December 1711 at Newport, Newport Co., Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations. ^{9,71}

5. Robert Allen.

Robert Allen, the son of George Allen and his first wife, was born in England. ¹² In 1645, Robert was listed as being one of the militiamen who served for thirteen days in the war against the Narragansett Indians. ⁷² According to available New Plymouth Colony records, Robert, who appears to have remained single throughout his life, committed suicide in the home of his elder brother, John Allen, on 15 May 1661 at Rehoboth in New Plymouth Colony. ¹⁷ John Allen informed the Rehoboth Court about his deceased brother, Robert Allen, on 10 June 1661 and stated that Robert had “three cows, two young steers, and three young calves at Sandwich” ³⁸ Based upon an inquest which was held on 22 April 1662, the Court rendered a verdict that Robert Allen “came by his death by laying violent hands upon himself.” ¹⁷

6. George Allen.

George Allen, the son of George Allen and his first wife, was calculated to have been born in 1619 in England. ^{2,3} This year was derived from George’s stated age of 16 (sixteen) on the list of passengers who departed Weymouth, England for the New World on 20 March 1635. ^{2,3} George was apparently married twice during his lifetime. He appears to have married first in about 1647 in New Plymouth Colony to a woman named Hannah. ^{18,19,20} After their marriage, George and Hannah made their home at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony, where all of their children were born. ^{19,20}

According to various court records, George was fined on 8 June 1651 for failing to serve as a juror, and on 7 October 1651 both he and his wife were fined for failure to attend public worship.^{38,73} George was also fined on several occasions for refusing to take the Oath of Fidelity to the King.³⁸ In 1675, however, records indicate that George and his brother, Francis, changed their minds and took the Oath of Fidelity.⁷⁴

According to available land records, George Allen, along with William Gifford and the sons of Peter Gaunt, purchased a tract of land from the Indians in the Province of East Jersey.⁷⁵ The patent for this "Monmouth" property was subsequently granted to these individuals on 8 April 1665.⁷⁵ Although George may have spent some time at Monmouth between 1665 and 1670 he is known to have been a resident of Sandwich up until the time of his death. The majority of his and Hannah's children, however, eventually moved to the Province of East Jersey, settling in either Burlington County, or in the vicinity of Shrewsbury in Monmouth County.

In 1683, George and Hannah's relationship with the Quakers of Sandwich became strained over the marriage of their daughter, Lydia, to a man named Edward Wooley who was not a Quaker.⁹ Hannah apparently died in about 1685/1686 at Sandwich in what had recently become Barnstable County, as George is known to have married for a second time, also in New Plymouth Colony, to a woman named Sarah in 1687.^{9,49} George was subsequently reprimanded by the Quakers at Sandwich for his marriage to Sarah who was also not a Quaker, and later, on 3 June 1687, he acknowledged his wrongdoing.⁹

George Allen appears to have died in 1693 at Sandwich in Barnstable County in what was now the Province of Massachusetts Bay.^{21,49} Because of disagreements over the distribution of George's estate between his widow, Sarah, and his children from his first marriage to Hannah, both parties agreed on 22 April 1693 to binding arbitration.²¹ The arbitrators met on 2 May 1693, and their settlement was recorded on 3 May 1693.²¹ There are no known issue from George's second marriage.

The birth dates of the first six children listed below were found in the Sandwich Quaker Church records and in the Sandwich Town records, although the year of birth differed in the Town records from the Quaker Church records in every case.^{19,20}

7. Francis Allen.

Francis Allen, believed to be a son of George Allen and his first wife, was born in England. ^{12,22} His name was later found on the list of men from Sandwich, between the ages of sixteen and sixty, who were able to bear arms in the New Plymouth Colony in 1643. ²² Francis was later married at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony to a woman named Mary Besse on 20 July 1662. ¹⁹ Mary was the daughter of Anthony and Jane Besse. ⁸³ After Mary's father, Anthony, passed away, her mother, Jane, married for a second time to the Sheriff of Sandwich, George Barlow. ⁸³

Francis died in 1698 at Sandwich in what had become Barnstable County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay. ^{23,49} His will, which had been written on the 18th day, 12th month, 1695 (18 February 1695/1696), was subsequently probated in Barnstable County on 19 March 1697/1698. ²³ Because Mary was not listed in Francis Allen's will, she probably died prior 1696. ²³

8. Matthew Allen.

Matthew Allen, believed to be the son of George Allen and his second wife, Katherine, was born in about 1627 in England. ^{2,3,12,22} Although Matthew Allen was shown in the list of passengers departing Weymouth, England on 20 March 1635 as being six years of age, his age is not believed to be correct. ^{2,3,12} Matthew was later found on the 1643 list of men from Sandwich who were between the ages of sixteen and sixty and able to bear arms in the New Plymouth Colony. ²² His brother, William, was not on this list, however. ^{2,3,22} This list, which had been compiled in 1643, is believed to be more accurate than the passenger list. As such, the ages of Matthew (6) and his brother, William (8), are believed to have been reversed on the passenger list.

Matthew was latter married during the month of June 1657 to a woman named Sarah Kirby in the Rhode Island Monthly Meeting of Friends in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations. ²⁴ (NOTE: Their date of marriage has been stated, depending on the source, as either 5, 6, or 8 June 1657). ^{85,88,89} Sarah, who was the daughter of Richard Kirby of Sandwich, was born in 1638. ^{25,85}

Sometime after their marriage, Matthew and Sarah settled at Dartmouth in the New Plymouth Colony. Matthew Allen subsequently died at Dartmouth on 1 May 1695, in what had recently become Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay. ^{25,49} His will, which had been written on 7 February 1688/1689, was probated before the Bristol County Court on 23 May 1695. ⁹⁰ All of the children listed below were named in Matthew's will. ⁹⁰

9. William Allen.

William Allen, believed to be the son of George Allen and his second wife, Katherine, is thought to have been born in about 1629 in England. ^{2,3,12,22} Although William Allen was shown as being eight years of age in the list of passengers departing Weymouth, England on 20 March 1635, he was not shown on the 1643 list of men from Sandwich who were between the ages of sixteen and sixty and able to bear arms in the New Plymouth Colony. ^{2,3,12,22} His brother, Matthew, however, was listed. ^{2,3,22} This list, which had been compiled in 1643, is believed to be more accurate than the ship's passenger list. As such, the ages of William (8) and his brother, Matthew (6), are believed to have been reversed on the passenger list.

William was latter married to a woman named Priscilla Brown in the New Plymouth Colony on 21 March 1649/1650.^{26,27,64} Priscilla, who was born in about 1629 in the New Plymouth Colony, was the daughter of Peter Brown, a signer of the Pilgrim Compact, and his wife, the widow Martha Ford.⁹⁶ After their marriage, William and Priscilla appear to have resided at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony for the remainder of their lives.

Both William and Priscilla were very active and outspoken supporters of the Quaker movement, and over the years they were often fined for holding Quaker meetings and entertaining visiting Quakers in their home, as well as for not frequenting "the publick worship of God, contrarye to order made the 6th of June 1651."^{12,38,73,97} In 1656, William was called into court for failure to serve on the Grand Enquest, and in 1658, 1659 and 1660 he was called into court for refusing to take the Oath of Fidelity.³⁸ Aside from the monetary fines, William and Priscilla also had property seized, and on several occasions William had to endure jail time and public whipping.^{73,83,97}

In one instance in 1661, Sheriff George Barlow of Sandwich went to William's home while William was in jail in Boston. Having already seized the majority of William and Priscilla's moveable property, Sheriff Barlow went into their home and took Priscilla's last cooking pot and bag of meal. Upon doing so he sneered; "Now Priscilla, how will thee cook for thy family and friends, thee has no kettle." Priscilla then replied; "George, that God who hears the young ravens when they cry will provide for them, I trust in that God, and I verily believe the time will come when thy necessity will be greater than mine."⁹⁷

William Allen died without issue on 1 October 1705 at Sandwich in what had become Barnstable County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay.^{12,28,49} His will, which had been written on 17 February 1697/1698, was subsequently probated in Barnstable County on 26 October 1705.⁹⁸ Although Priscilla is believed to have also died in Barnstable County, the date of her death has not been determined.

10. Henry Allen.

Henry Allen, the son of George Allen and his second wife, Katherine, was probably born in England. After his father, George, passed away, Henry resided with his mother, Katherine, and step-father, John Collins, at Boston.^{9,12} Later, on 10 July 1656, "Henery and Samuuell Alin of Boston in New England" sold their inherited share of their father's land at Sandwich to their elder half-brother, George Allen.⁹⁹

Henry was evidently married twice during his life. He married first to a woman named Sarah Hill in about 1662 at Milford in New Haven Colony.^{12,26,29} Sarah was the daughter of John and Frances Hill.¹⁰⁰ Sarah subsequently died in 1680 at Milford in what was then New Haven County, Connecticut Colony.^{12,29,49,100}

After Sarah passed away, Henry married for a second time to a widow named Rebecca Rose at Stratford in Fairfield County, Connecticut Colony.^{9,12,30,101} She was the widow of Robert Rose.^{12,30,101} This Rebecca is strongly believed to be Rebecca Sherwood, the daughter of Thomas Sherwood and Alice Seabrook.³⁰ Henry Allen, who was a shoemaker by trade, died in 1690 at Stratford, Fairfield County, Connecticut Colony.^{9,12,29,31} Although Henry Allen does not appear to have left a last will and testament, an inventory of his estate was taken on 20 September 1690, which was later filed for probate on 8 November 1690.³¹

11. Samuel Allen.

Samuel Allen, the son of George Allen and his second wife, Katherine, was probably born in England. After his father, George, passed away, Samuel resided with his mother, Katherine, and step-father, John Collins, at Boston. ^{9,12} By a property deed dated 10 July 1656, "Henery and Samuell Alin of Boston in New England" sold their inherited share of their father's land at Sandwich to their elder half-brother, George Allen. ⁹⁹

Although it is believed that Samuel probably married and had a family, no additional information has been found which pertains to him. One clue to Samuel's possible whereabouts was mentioned in "A Sandwich-Dartmouth-North Kingstown Allen Line," compiled by Bertha Winifred Clark. She quoted a New Haven Colony Court record dated 23 May 1661 which stated "The Court enquired of Jeremiah Osburne whether he knew of any yt stood related to the aforesaid John Ovarin, who answered that Henry Allen hath told him that he hath a brother about Piscattoway, who undertook to give him notice of John Ovarin's death." ¹² Unfortunately, it is not known at this time if Samuel was the brother residing at Piscataway in the Province of East Jersey.

12. Gideon Allen.

Gideon Allen, the son of George Allen and his second wife, Katherine, is believed to have been born in the New Plymouth Colony. ^{12,32,33,34} After his father, George, passed away, Gideon resided with his mother, Katherine, and step-father, John Collins, at Boston. ^{9,12}

As a young man, Gideon left Boston and moved to Rehoboth, where he was found witnessing a court document on 20 May 1667 discharging his elder half-brother, John Allen, after he successfully administered the estate of one Richard Ormsbey.¹² Along with his elder half-brother, John Allen, and several other individuals, Gideon has been noted as being one of the original founders of the town of Swansea in what is today Bristol County, Massachusetts.¹²

On 7 February 1669/1670, when the town of Swansea began granting lots to its inhabitants, these lots were apportioned according to three ranks. Gideon's brother, John, who was in the first rank, received three acres, while Gideon was in the second rank and received two acres.¹⁰⁴ Several months after Gideon was granted a lot at Swansea, he apparently traveled back to Boston, where he was granted the right to administer the estate of his step-father, John Collins, on 27 July 1670.¹⁰⁵

Shortly after Gideon settled his step-father's estate, however, he appears to have gone to Milford in New Haven County, Connecticut Colony, where he is believed to have also been married in that same year (1670) to a woman named Sarah Prudden.^{12,32,33,34} Sarah, who was the daughter of the Rev. Peter Prudden and Joanna Boyse, had been born on 9 May 1650, and christened at Milford on 12 May 1650.¹⁰²

After their marriage, Gideon and Sarah settled at Swansea in New Plymouth Colony for a few years, but eventually returned to Milford, where they resided for the remainder of their lives.¹² Gideon Allen, who was a cordwainer (shoemaker) by trade, died at Milford in New Haven County, Connecticut Colony in 1693.^{12,33,102} Sarah, on the other hand, was still alive on 1 March 1699/1700 when she conveyed property to her sons, Gideon and George Allen.³³ Both Gideon and Sarah were subsequently buried in the Milford Cemetery at Milford in New Haven County, Connecticut.³⁵ (NOTE: Cemetery death dates for both Gideon and Sarah, and some other information, is not correct).

GENERATION THREE

NOTE: Only the author's pedigree ancestor and known siblings, and those other family members (cousins) who have the Allen surname, are covered in this generation.

13. John Allen.

John Allen, the eldest son of John and Christian Allen, was born in the New Plymouth Colony.¹³ John, who apparently remained single throughout his life, died without issue in 1723 at Swansea in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay.⁴⁰ His will, which had been written on 1 January 1722/1723, was subsequently probated before the Bristol County Court on 1 November 1723. Although John's will indicated that he owned property at Barrington in what was then the Province of Massachusetts Bay, Barrington was later ceded to Bristol County in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations in 1747, and made a part of Warren.

14. Deborah Allen.

Deborah Allen, the daughter of John and Christian Allen, was born in the New Plymouth Colony.¹³ She was later married on 5 November 1659 to a man named Joseph Bucklin (also written Buckland) at Rehoboth in the New Plymouth Colony.⁴¹ Joseph, who had been born on 23 June 1633 in England, was the son of William Buckland and Mary Bosworth.¹⁰⁸

Joseph Bucklin died on 26 March 1718 at Rehoboth in what had become Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay, while Deborah died there on 1 April 1720.⁴² Both Joseph and Deborah were subsequently buried in the Newman Cemetery in Providence County in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations.⁴²

16. Elizabeth Allen.

Elizabeth Allen, the daughter of John and Christian Allen, was born in the New Plymouth Colony.⁴⁰ Elizabeth was apparently married twice during her life. She married first on 6 November 1668 to a man named John Dixey at Swansea in the New Plymouth Colony.^{44,107,115} John, who was a sea captain by profession, was the son of William Dixey.^{44,115} He and Elizabeth were residing at Swansea in New Plymouth Colony when he died in 1673.^{44,115} His will, which was dated 21 September 1673, was subsequently probated on 9 August 1673.¹¹⁵

After her first husband passed away, Elizabeth married during the month of November 1674 for a second time, also at Swansea, to a widower named John Fairweather (also written Fayerweather).⁴⁴ John, who had been born at Boston in the Massachusetts Bay Colony on 21 September 1634, was the son of Thomas and Mary Fairweather.⁴⁴ After their marriage, John and Elizabeth settled at Boston, where they appear to have resided for the remainder of their lives. Elizabeth subsequently died at Boston in Suffolk County in the Massachusetts Bay Colony on 10 October 1689.^{40,44}

After Elizabeth passed away, John married for a third time on 17 November 1692 to a woman named Mary Hewes at Boston in what had then become Suffolk County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay.^{44,49} John died at Boston on 14 April 1712.⁴⁴ His will, which had been written on 10 November 1708, did not name an Executor.⁴⁴ As such, his widow, Mary was granted administration of his estate on 24 April 1712.^{44,116}

17. Isaac Allen.

Isaac Allen, the son of John Allen and his wife, Christian, was born in about 1642 in the New Plymouth Colony.¹³ Isaac was apparently married twice during his life. He married first to a woman named Mary Bowen on 30 May 1673 at Rehoboth in the New Plymouth Colony.^{27,41} Mary, who had been born on 18 January 1652/1653 at Rehoboth, was the daughter of Obadiah Bowen and Mary Clifton.^{27,41,119} Mary later died at Rehoboth on 20 August 1678.¹¹⁹

After his first wife passed away, Isaac married for a second time, also in New Plymouth Colony, to a woman named Katherine Balcom in about 1681.^{27,45,120,121} Katherine was the daughter of Alexander Balcom.¹²¹

Isaac died in 1692 at Rehoboth in what had become Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay, and was buried there on 24 November 1692.^{41,45} Although his will was written on 3 October 1692, no date of probate has been found in the available records.⁴⁵ However, an order for the division of his estate between Anthony Sprague and the children of Isaac Allen was subsequently issued on 5 January 1693/1694.⁴⁵

After Isaac passed away, his widow, Katherine, married for a second time to a man named Daniel Jenckes.¹²¹ Daniel, who had been born on 19 April 1663, was the son of Joseph Jenckes of Lynn in the Massachusetts Bay Colony.¹²¹ Katherine died in 1729, and was buried in Governor Joseph Jenckes Lot (Defunct) at Pawtucket in Providence County in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations.¹²² The below listed children, as well as their respective dates of birth, were found in the "Vital Records of Rehoboth, 1642-1896."⁴¹

26. John Allen.

John Allen, the son of Ralph and Susannah Allen, was probably born in the Massachusetts Bay Colony. He was later married to a woman named Rebecca in the New Plymouth Colony.^{9,55} John subsequently died in 1706 at Sandwich in what was then Barnstable County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay.^{9,55}

After John passed away, his widow, Rebecca, married for a second time to a man named Joseph Launders (also written Landers).¹²⁷ In a copy of the Barnstable County probate records that are in the possession of the New England Historical Society of Boston, there was found a notation dated 20 May 1706 regarding the estate of John Allen, "late of Sandwich," and his widow, Rebecca Allen, who was appointed administratrix.¹²⁸ In a subsequent record dated 26 February 1711/1712, a listing of various items in John's estate was presented, along with an appraisal and settlement of his estate.¹²⁸ In this record, mention is also made of Rebecca as: "Rebecca Saunders, late widow of John Allen of Sandwich," and addresses the cost of bringing up their children, which are identified as follows: Isaac, Benjamin and Judah.¹²⁸ (NOTE: Joseph's surname is actually Launders or Landers, and is written as such in many records including his will).¹²⁷

Rebecca's second husband, Joseph Launders, died in 1750.¹²⁷ His will, which had been written on 27 July 1749, was later probated on 4 May 1750.¹²⁷ Although Rebecca is known to have survived Joseph, her actual date and place of death have not been determined.

27. Benjamin Allen.

Benjamin Allen, the son of Ralph and Susannah Allen, was probably born in the Massachusetts Bay Colony. Benjamin apparently did not marry and died without issue in 1669 at the home of a man named Thomas Cornell at Portsmouth in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations. ^{15,60} He was subsequently buried in the Clifton Burying Ground at Newport in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations on 27 February 1669. ⁶¹

28. Philip Allen.

Philip Allen, the son of Ralph and Susannah Allen, was probably born in the Massachusetts Bay Colony. Philip apparently did not marry and died without issue in the home of a man named William Woddle at Portsmouth in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations on 13 July 1671. ^{15,60}

29. Joseph Allen. *

Joseph Allen, the son of Ralph and Susannah Allen, was born in about 1642 in the Massachusetts Bay Colony. ^{36,55} Joseph was apparently married twice during his life. He married first in July 1662 to a woman named Sarah Holloway (also written Holway and Holley) in the New Plymouth Colony. ²⁷ Sarah, who had been born at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony, was the daughter of Joseph Holloway and Rose Allen, and was therefore Joseph Allen's cousin. ⁵⁵

Joseph and Sarah were both Quakers who belonged to the Rhode Island Monthly Meeting of Friends, and it was in the records of this Meeting that the birth dates of their first six children were found.⁹¹ Sarah appears to have died in New Plymouth Colony sometime after the birth of their seventh child, Josiah, who is believed to have been born in about 1675 at Dartmouth.⁵⁵

Joseph subsequently married for a second time, also in New Plymouth Colony, to a widow named Sarah (Hull) Ridley in 1680.^{19,55,62} "The Vital Records of Sandwich, Massachusetts to 1885" show: "Joseph Allen of Dartmouth, m. 1680, Sarah Ridley."¹⁹ Sarah, who was the widow of Mark Ridley, was the daughter of Tristram and Blanche Hull.^{55,62} Because Joseph was apparently one of the original proprietors of Dartmouth, owning a 1/34th share in the Township of Dartmouth, he and Sarah lived at Dartmouth throughout much of their married life together.^{55,130,131}

During the period 1695-1700, Joseph acted as agent for the Dartmouth Proprietors in a dispute with the towns of Little Compton and Tiverton.¹³⁰ In 1697, however, Joseph purchased property in Monmouth County, New Jersey, and at the time of his death he was building a home there.⁵⁵ In various deeds, Joseph's occupation was listed as either a wheelwright, husbandman, or yeoman.⁵⁵

Joseph left two wills, one written in 1696 while he was residing at Dartmouth, and a second, written on 26 June 1704, which states that he was a resident of Shrewsbury in Monmouth County, New Jersey.^{55,63,131} Joseph died, probably at Shrewsbury, during the month of September 1704.^{9,63,131} The actual month and year of Joseph's death were stated in the inventory of his Dartmouth property.¹³¹ Both of Joseph's wills were subsequently probated on 11 October 1704 before Samuel Cranston, the Governor of the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations.^{63,131} Although Joseph's widow, Sarah, is known to have survived him, the actual date and place of her death are not known.

After their marriage, Ebenezer and Abigail resided at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the New Plymouth Colony, where Ebenezer was a blacksmith. Ebenezer subsequently died at Dartmouth during either the month of April or May 1725. ^{9,65} His will, which was dated 18 April 1725, was admitted for probate on 18 May 1725 before the Bristol County Court. ⁶⁵ After Ebenezer passed away, his widow, Abigail, married secondly to a man named John Whitely at Dartmouth on 4 July 1728. ⁸⁷

32. Zachariah Allen.

Zachariah Allen, the son of Ralph and Susannah Allen, was born at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony. ^{9,16} Although Zachariah is known to have been married, the name of his wife has not been determined. ^{68,69}

According to various court and land records furnished this author by Mr. Richardson Allen of Sandy, Utah, Zachariah appears to have resided at Sandwich until 1684, at which time he moved to Dartmouth in New Plymouth Colony.⁶⁸ Prior to removing to Dartmouth, however, court records indicate that Zachariah was found guilty of four counts of selling liquor to Indians which resulted in fines and the seizure of 42 acres of his land.⁶⁸

On 19 August 1693, while residing at Dartmouth, Zachariah was again complained against by the authorities, but this time it was "for not making provision for his wife and children."^{68,69} By 1712, Zachariah is found residing at Westerly in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, where it is believed he probably died.^{68,70} Although Zachariah's four sons were identified in various land evidence records, all of his children were identified in his will, which was dated 23 June 1716, and acknowledged on 23 November 1719 before Christopher Allen, Justice.^{68,158} Ironically, Zachariah Allen was still alive and residing at Westerly nearly nine years after his will was acknowledged, when he sold his "homestead farm" to his eldest son, Zachariah Allen, Jr., on 19 April 1728.^{68,159}

Because Zachariah is believed to have been single when he moved to Dartmouth, and because he is known to have been residing at Dartmouth for about 25 years prior to moving to Westerly in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, it is assumed that all of his children were probably born there. Neither the actual order of their birth, nor their ages, are known, however.

36. Judah Allen.

Judah Allen, the son of George Allen and his wife, Hannah, was born at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony on 30 January 1650/1651.^{19,20,26,76} He was later married to a woman named Mary Wooley, probably in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations.^{76,77} Mary, who had been born during the month of November 1657 at Newport in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, was the daughter of Emanuel and Elizabeth Wooley.^{9,77}

Judah and Mary eventually moved to the Province of East Jersey, where they apparently resided for the remainder of their lives.⁷⁶ On 15 January 1679/1680, Judah received a patent for 280 acres of land on Rumson's Neck, and later, on 2 June 1680, he was chosen to represent Shrewsbury in the East Jersey Assembly.⁷⁶

Several years later, on 9 July 1685, Judah Allen and his brother, Ephraim Allen, along with a number of other settlers, were given permission by the Lord Proprietor of the Province of East Jersey to acquire up to 2,500 acres of land from the local Indians.¹⁶¹ Judah's share of this acquisition consisted of 120 acres of land which was situated at Manasquan in Monmouth County in the Province of East Jersey.¹⁶¹ He subsequently received a patent for this land on 16 February 1685/1686.¹⁶¹

Judah Allen died in 1689 at Shrewsbury in Monmouth County in the Province of East Jersey.^{63,76,77} His will, which had been written on 24 October 1689, was later admitted for probate before the Monmouth County Court on 4 December 1689.⁶³ In his will, Judah mentions his wife, Mary, his brother, George, and with the exception of Judah, Jr., the below listed children.⁶³ At the time of Judah's death, Mary is believed to have been pregnant with a fifth child, who was named Judah after his father.

After Judah passed away, Mary married for a second time on 27 May 1695 to a man named Thomas Foreman at the Shrewsbury Monthly Meeting of Friends.⁷⁷ Thomas was the son of Aaron and Dorothy Foreman.⁷⁷ Thomas Foreman and Mary had three children, namely Benjamin (b. 3 December 1695), Rebecca (b. 7 June 1698), and Elizabeth (b. 3 April 1702). Thomas Foreman died at Freehold in Monmouth County, New Jersey in 1723.⁷⁷ His will, which was written on 26 November 1723, was probated on 5 December 1723.⁷⁷ Because Mary was mentioned in his will, it is known that she also survived her second husband. Although Mary is believed to have also died in Monmouth County, New Jersey, the actual date her death is not known..

37. Ephraim Allen.

Ephraim Allen, the son of George Allen and his wife, Hannah, was born at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony on 14 January 1652/1653. ^{19,20,26,76} He was later married at the Shrewsbury Monthly Meeting of Friends in the Province of East Jersey to a woman named Margaret Wardell on 29 March 1681. ^{76,78,79} Margaret, who had been born at Hampton in the Upper Province of Massachusetts Bay, (now within Rockingham County, New Hampshire) on 23 May 1664, was the daughter of Eliakim Wardell and Lydia Perkins. ⁷⁶

On 9 July 1685, Ephraim Allen and his brother, Judah Allen, along with a number of other settlers, were given permission by the Lord Proprietor of the Province of East Jersey to acquire up to 2,500 acres of land from the local Indians. ¹⁶¹ Ephraim's share of this acquisition consisted of 60 acres of land which was situated at Manasquan in Monmouth County. ¹⁶¹ He received a patent for this land on 15 August 1686. ¹⁶¹

Ephraim Allen died on 29 January 1691/1692 at Shrewsbury in Monmouth County in the Province of East Jersey. ^{63,166} His will, which was dated 30 January 1691/1692, was subsequently probated in Monmouth County on 1 February 1691/1692. ⁶³ Although Ephraim refers to his wife, two sons, and one daughter in his will, he does not name them. ⁶³ He also desires that his "wife, her father, George Allen and John Williams to order the outward estate." ⁶³ However, in a subsequent document which was dated 5 August 1693, Eliakim Wardell, George Allen and John Williams resigned their trust in favor of Ephraim's widow, Margaret Allen. ⁶³

After Ephraim passed away, Margaret married for a second time to a man named William West. ⁶³ William subsequently died in Monmouth County in 1746. ¹⁶⁶ His will, which had been written on 1 May 1740, was probated on 15 March 1746. ¹⁶⁶ Although Margaret is known to have also survived her second husband, the date and place of her death have yet to be determined.

38. Elizabeth Allen.

Elizabeth Allen, the daughter of George Allen and his wife, Hannah, was born at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony on 10 January 1654/1655. ^{9,19,20} She was later married, probably in the Province of East Jersey, to a man named John Williams. ⁹ Elizabeth died on 14 February 1708/1709 at Shrewsbury in Monmouth County, New Jersey. ^{9,79,166}

Sometime after Elizabeth passed away, John married for a second time to a woman named Mary. ⁶³ John died at Shrewsbury on 22 February 1719/1720. ^{166,167} His will, which had been written on 2 August 1717, was admitted for probate before the Monmouth County Court on 21 March 1719/1720. ⁶³ In his will, John mentions his second wife, Mary, and all of the below listed children except Experience who had died prior to John writing his will. ⁶³ Unfortunately the exact order of birth of John and Elizabeth's children is not known.

39. James Allen.

James Allen, the son of George and Hannah Allen, was born on 5 August 1657 at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony. ^{19,20,26} James was a twin child. ^{19,20} Although James may have moved to Burlington County, New Jersey with several of his siblings, no additional information has been found concerning him.

40. John Allen.

John Allen, the son of George and Hannah Allen, was born on 5 August 1657 at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony. ^{19,20,26} John was a twin child. ^{19,20} He was later married during the month of April 1701 to a woman named Alice Worthilake at Sandwich in Barnstable County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay. ⁵³

John Allen died at Sandwich in Barnstable County on 3 December 1717.^{9,80} His will, which had been written on 30 November 1717, was subsequently probated before the Barnstable County Court on 23 December 1717.¹⁷¹ Because the available birth records for Sandwich do not indicate that John and Alice had any children, and because no children were mentioned in John's will, it is believed that he died without issue.^{9,171}

41. Lydia Allen.

Lydia Allen, the daughter of George and Hannah Allen, was born at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony during the month of May 1660.¹⁹ She was later married in about 1683 to a man named Edward Wooley in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations.⁷⁷ Edward was the son of Emanuel and Elizabeth Wooley.⁷⁷

Based upon property deeds and birth records, Edward and Lydia apparently moved back and forth a couple of times between the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations and Shrewsbury in Monmouth County in the Province of East Jersey before settling permanently at Shrewsbury.⁷⁷ Edward Wooley subsequently died at Shrewsbury in Monmouth County, New Jersey in about 1728.^{63,168} Although Edward left a will, which had been written on 3 January 1728/1729, no record of probate has been found.⁶³ Lydia, on the other hand, appears to have died at Shrewsbury, New Jersey in 1732.^{81,168} She too left a will which was dated 3 October 1732, and an inventory of her estate was carried out on 19 December 1732.⁸¹

45. George Allen.

George Allen, the son of George Allen and his wife, Hannah, was born at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony on 20 June 1672.^{9,19,26} In 1687, while still a minor, George was deeded four tracts of land at Shrewsbury in Monmouth County in the Province of East Jersey by his older brother, Daniel Allen of Sandwich.⁷⁶ George subsequently moved to Shrewsbury, where he was later married to a woman named Elizabeth Hulett on 22 April 1694.⁷⁶ Elizabeth was the daughter of George Hulett.⁷⁶

During the years 1704, 1705, and 1709/1710, George served as a Justice of the Peace for Monmouth County, New Jersey.⁷⁶ According to various deed records and his will, George's occupation was given as being either a weaver or a yeoman.⁷⁶ George apparently died at Shrewsbury, New Jersey in 1714/1715.^{9,76} His will, which had been written on 23 November 1714, was probated on 25 February 1714/1715 before the Monmouth County Court.⁶³ Elizabeth, on the other hand, died at Shrewsbury, New Jersey in 1756.¹⁷⁷ Her will, which had been written on 6 September 1753, was probated in Monmouth County on 13 December 1756.¹⁷⁷ The following children were named in George Allen's will.⁶³

Rachel Allen, the daughter of Francis Allen and Mary Besse, was born at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony on 23 July 1663. ¹⁹ No additional information has been found concerning this individual.

47. Abigail Allen.

Abigail Allen, the daughter of Francis Allen and Mary Besse, was born at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony on 2 August 1665. ¹⁹ No additional information has been found concerning this individual.

48. Abiah Allen.

Abiah Allen, the daughter of Francis Allen and Mary Besse, was born at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony on 10 December 1666. ^{19,84} She was later married at Sandwich, in what had then become Barnstable County in the New Plymouth Colony, to a man named Zachariah Jenkins on 11 December 1686. ⁸⁴ Zachariah, who was born at Sandwich during the month of September 1651, was the son of John Jenkins and Susannah Cooke. ⁸⁴

Zachariah and Abiah eventually moved to the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, where they settled in the village of East Greenwich (East Greenwich is now within Kent County, Rhode Island). ⁸⁴ According to the records of the Greenwich Monthly Meeting of Friends, they were received there on 16 August 1708. ⁸⁴ Shortly thereafter, on 22 October 1709, Zachariah was made a "Freeman" of the town of East Greenwich, and on 2 May 1710, he was made a "Freeman" of the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations. ⁸⁴ Zachariah and Abiah later purchased four shares of boggy meadow at East Greenwich on 13 February 1708/1709, and bought additional lands to the west of East Greenwich on 18 September 1710. ⁸⁴

Abiah died at East Greenwich in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations on 10 April 1712.⁸⁴ Zachariah later sold his lands near East Greenwich and moved to North Kingstown in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, where he appears to have died in 1722.⁸⁴ His will was subsequently probated at North Kingstown on 10 January 1722/1723.⁸⁴

49. Rebecca Allen.

Rebecca Allen, the daughter of Francis Allen and Mary Besse, was born at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony on 2 August 1668.¹⁹ Although no record of her marriage has been found, she is believed to have been married in the New Plymouth Colony to a man named Recompense Kirby (also written Recompence).⁸⁵ Recompense, who is believed to have also been born at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony, was the son of Richard Kirby.⁸⁵

When Recompense Kirby's father, Richard Kirby, died, Recompense received a one-fourth part of his father's lands at Dartmouth in New Plymouth Colony.⁸⁵ Recompense later sold these lands to his older brother, Richard, after which he and Rebecca moved to the Province of West Jersey, where they settled at Newton in Burlington County.⁸⁵ According to the book "The Kirby's of New England" by Melatiah Dwight, there was a deed recorded in Burlington County, New Jersey in 1708 between Recompense Kirby and James Tripp which was also acknowledged by Rebecca.⁸⁵ Because Rebecca apparently could not sign her name, she acknowledged the deed by placing a large "A" by her name, which many have suggested stood for her maiden name Allen.⁸⁵

Recompense died in Burlington County, New Jersey in 1720.^{63,85} His will, which had been written on 4 September 1712, was later probated on 6 August 1720 in Burlington County, New Jersey.^{63,85} Although Rebecca was alive when Recompense wrote his will, the actual date and place of her death are not known.⁶³ The four children listed below were named in Recompense Kirby's will.⁶³

50. Hannah Allen.

Hannah Allen, the daughter of Francis Allen and Mary Besse, was born at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony on 25 August 1672.¹⁹ No additional information has been found concerning this individual.

51. Dinah Allen.

Dinah Allen, the daughter of Francis Allen and Mary Besse, was born at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony in 1675.⁸⁶ She was later married on 24 August 1704 at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay to a man named Eliashub Smith.⁸⁷ Eliashub, who had been born on 7 March 1676/1677, was the son of John Smith and his second wife, Ruhamah Kirby.^{24,86}

Dinah appears to have died in about 1730 at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay, as Eliashub is known to have married for a second time on 8 April 1731 to a woman named Audrey Gifford at Dartmouth.^{86,87}

52. Dorothy Allen.

Dorothy Allen, the daughter of Matthew Allen and Sarah Kirby, was born at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony on 8 April 1659.^{12,91} She was later married in about 1678 in the New Plymouth Colony to a man named John Colvin (also written Calvin).¹²

After their marriage, John and Dorothy settled at Dartmouth in New Plymouth Colony, where they appear to have resided for approximately thirty years before moving to Providence in Providence County in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations.^{147,185} In 1705, shortly before moving to Providence, John had purchased in excess of 4,000 acres of land there.^{185,186} According to a number of sources, Dorothy is believed to have died in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations in about 1724.²⁵

After Dorothy passed away, John married in Providence County for a second time to a woman named Mary Keech on 30 May 1726.^{185,186,187} John Colvin died at Providence in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations on 28 November 1729.¹⁸⁶

73. Abigail Allen.

Abigail Allen, the daughter of Gideon Allen and Sarah Prudden, was born at Milford in New Haven County in the Connecticut Colony. She was subsequently christened at Milford on 9 September 1688.^{33,195} Abigail was apparently married twice during her life. She married first on 8 October 1707 at Milford in New Haven County to a man named John Shepherd.^{33,195} John, who had been born at Hartford in Hartford County in the Connecticut Colony on 1 November 1681, was the son of John Shepherd and Hannah Peck.²¹² John apparently died in 1719 at Milford, as during that year Abigail was granted permission to settle his estate.²¹²

After her first husband passed away, Abigail married for a second time, also at Milford, to a widower named Daniel Foote on 8 September 1723.^{33,102} Daniel, who had been born on 10 January 1682/1683 in Fairfield County in the Connecticut Colony, was the son of Daniel and Sarah Foote.²¹³ He had previously been married in Fairfield County to a woman named Dorothy Blakeman on 2 January 1705.²¹³ Abigail died at Newtown in Fairfield County on 19 December 1755.³³

85. Elizabeth Allen.

Elizabeth Allen, the daughter of Daniel Allen and his wife, Mary Dexter, was born at Swansea in the New Plymouth Colony on 28 September 1673. ⁴³ No additional information has been found concerning this individual.

86. Christian Allen.

Christian Allen, the daughter of Daniel Allen and his wife, Mary Dexter, was born at Swansea in the New Plymouth Colony on 26 January 1674/1675. ¹⁰⁷ She was later married on 18 March 1695/1696 to a man named Nathaniel Peck at Swansea in what had become Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay. ⁵³ Nathaniel, who was generally referred to in the records as Lieutenant Nathaniel Peck or Deacon Nathaniel Peck, was born on 26 July 1670 at Swansea. ²²² He was the son of Nathaniel Peck and Deliverance Bosworth. ¹¹² Christian, who died on 8 June 1702 at Swansea in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay, was subsequently buried in the Newman Cemetery at East Providence in Providence County in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations. ^{42,107} She was the mother of three children.

Approximately three years after Christian passed away, Nathaniel married for a second time to a woman named Judith Smith. ¹¹² This marriage took place at Swansea in the Province of Massachusetts Bay on 18 July 1705. ¹¹² Judith had been born at Rehoboth in the New Plymouth Colony on 7 February 1679. ¹¹² She died on 10 November 1743 at Barrington in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay, while Nathaniel died at Warren in Bristol County in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations on 5 August 1751. ¹¹² (NOTE: Barrington was later ceded to Bristol County in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations in 1747 and made a part of Warren in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations). Nathaniel and his second wife, Judith, were both buried in the Princes Hill Burial Ground at Barrington in Bristol County, Rhode Island. ¹¹² They were the parents of seven children.

Thomas Allen, the son of Daniel Allen and his wife, Mary Dexter, was born at Swansea in the New Plymouth Colony on 13 October 1676.⁴³ No additional information has been found concerning this individual.

88. Sarah Allen.

Sarah Allen, the daughter of Daniel Allen and his wife, Mary Dexter, was born at Swansea in the New Plymouth Colony on 13 August 1678.⁴³ No additional information has been found concerning this individual.

89. Daniel Allen.

Daniel Allen, the son of Daniel Allen and his wife, Mary Dexter, was born at Swansea in the New Plymouth Colony on 29 August 1680.⁴³ Daniel, along with his brother, Ebenezer Allen, were two of the 29 individuals who signed the petition to form a new township from the western portion of Swansea.²²⁴ Although this petition was presented to the General Court of the Province of Massachusetts Bay on 30 May 1711, it was not until 1717 that this area was incorporated as Barrington.²²⁴ (NOTE: Barrington was later ceded to Bristol County in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations in 1747 and made a part of Warren in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations).⁴⁹ Aside from the above, no additional information has been found concerning this individual.

90. Ebenezer Allen.

Ebenezer Allen, the son of Daniel Allen and his wife, Mary Dexter, was born at Swansea in the New Plymouth Colony on 31 August 1683.⁴³ He was later married in the Province of Massachusetts Bay to a woman named Hannah.¹¹¹

Ebenezer, along with his brother, Daniel Allen, were two of the 29 individuals who signed the petition to form a new township from the western portion of Swansea.²²⁴ Although this petition was presented to the General Court of the Province of Massachusetts Bay on 30 May 1711, it was not until 1717 that this area was incorporated as Barrington.²²⁴ (NOTE: Barrington was later ceded to Bristol County in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations in 1747 and made a part of Warren in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations).⁴⁹

After their marriage, Ebenezer and Hannah resided at Barrington for many years. In 1722, the Barrington Town Council appointed Ebenezer as Surveyor of Highways, and later, during the period 1731-1737, he served as Town Treasurer, and from 1735-1739, he served as Town Clerk.²²⁴

In 1747, when Barrington became part of Warren in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, Ebenezer was listed as being a "Freeman" of Warren.²²⁴ Ebenezer died on 27 September 1754 at Warren in what was then Bristol County in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations.¹¹² His will, which had been written on 7 August 1754, was later probated on 14 October 1754.¹¹¹ He was subsequently buried in the Princes Hill Cemetery at Barrington in Bristol County, Rhode Island.¹¹² Ebenezer's wife, Hannah, and the below listed children were all named in his will.¹¹¹

102. Isaac Allen.

Isaac Allen, the son of Isaac Allen and his first wife, Mary Bowen, was born at Rehoboth in the New Plymouth Colony of Massachusetts (now within Bristol County, Massachusetts) on 3 January 1674/1675. ⁴¹ Because Isaac was not named in his father's will, and because no additional information has been found concerning this individual, it may be that he died young.

103. Katherine Allen.

Katherine Allen, the daughter of Isaac Allen and his second wife, Katherine Balcom, was born at Rehoboth in the New Plymouth Colony on 18 January 1683/1684.⁴¹ Katherine subsequently died at Attleboro in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay 11 December 1703.¹²³

104. Bethia Allen.

Bethia Allen, the daughter of Isaac Allen and his second wife, Katherine Balcom, was born on 11 December 1685 at Rehoboth in what had become Bristol County in the New Plymouth Colony.⁴¹ She was later married to a man named Joseph Hopkins.¹²⁴ Joseph, who had been born in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, was the son of Thomas Hopkins and Mary Smith.¹²⁴ He was also the brother of the William Hopkins who married Bethia's sister, Deborah Allen.¹²⁴

Although Bethia is believed to have died in the vicinity of Attleboro in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay, the actual date of her death has not been determined.¹²⁴ The lands upon which Joseph and Bethia resided at the time of her death were referred to as being at "Shenegachoconett" and were inherited from Joseph's father.¹²⁴ This portion of the Province of Massachusetts Bay was eventually ceded to the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations in 1747 and is now situated in the area of Cumberland in Providence County, Rhode Island.¹²⁴

After Bethia passed away, Joseph married for a second time to a woman named Martha.¹²⁴ Joseph subsequently died on 19 July 1740 at Scituate in Providence County in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations.¹²⁴ His will, which had been written on 4 July 1740, was later probated on 1 September 1740 in Providence County.¹²⁴

108. Isaac Allen.

Isaac Allen, the eldest son of John and Rebecca Allen, was born in the New Plymouth Colony.¹²⁸ No additional information has been found concerning this individual.

109. Benjamin Allen.

Benjamin Allen, the second son of John and Rebecca Allen, was born in the New Plymouth Colony.¹²⁸ He was later married to a woman named Waitstill Bowerman in her father's home at Falmouth in Barnstable County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay on the 9th day, 1st month, 1720 (9 March 1720/1721).¹⁹ Waitstill was the daughter of Thomas Bowerman and Mary Harper.²⁴⁰

After their marriage, Benjamin and Waitstill appear to have resided at Falmouth for many years, as all of their children appear to have been christened there.²⁴¹ Benjamin and several members of the family eventually moved to Dartmouth in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay, however, where he is known to have resided for the remainder of his life.¹²⁹ Unfortunately, it is not known at this time whether Waitstill died prior to, or after, moving to Dartmouth. Because Benjamin's two youngest children appear to be much younger than his other children, it is believed that Benjamin may have been married twice during his life.

Benjamin Allen died in 1775 at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay.¹²⁹ His will, which had been written on 16 February 1775, was subsequently probated in Bristol County on 19 April 1775.¹²⁹ The children listed below were all named in Benjamin's will.¹²⁹

110. Judah Allen.

Judah Allen, the third son of John and Rebecca Allen, was born in the New Plymouth Colony. ¹²⁸ Judah was apparently married twice during his lifetime. He married first to a woman named Rebekah Wing at Sandwich in Barnstable County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay on 26 January 1727/1728. ^{20,128} Rebekah, who had been born at Sandwich on 29 July 1702, was the daughter of Ebenezer Wing and Elizabeth Backus (Backhouse). ^{27,82,128} Rebecca is said to have died in about 1756 at Sandwich. ⁸²

After Rebekah passed away, Judah married for a second time to a woman named Elizabeth Allen. ⁸⁷ Although an actual record of their marriage has not been found, their intentions to marry were recorded on 8 June 1762 at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay. ⁸⁷ Elizabeth, who had been born at Dartmouth in Bristol County on 6 February 1727/1728, was the daughter of Noah Allen and Rebecca Kirby. ^{87,147} Judah Allen was subsequently disowned by the Quakers for marrying outside of their Society. ^{245,246}

Judah died in 1770 at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay, and later, on 31 December 1770, bond was posted by Elizabeth to serve as Administratrix of Judah's estate.¹²⁹ After Judah passed away, Elizabeth married for a second time to a man named Daniel Ormsby.⁸⁷ Although an actual record of their marriage has not been found, their intentions to marry were recorded at Dartmouth in Bristol County on 16 November 1771.⁸⁷

111. Abigail Allen.

Abigail Allen, the daughter of Joseph Allen and his first wife, Sarah Holloway, was born at Dartmouth in the New Plymouth Colony on 1 April 1663. ⁹¹ She was later married in the Province of Massachusetts Bay to a man named Edward Cottle (also written Cottel) in about 1701. ¹³² Edward, who had been born on 28 September 1666 at Salisbury in Essex County, was the son of Edward Cottle and Judith Osgood. ^{251,252} This was Edward's second marriage, having previously been married to a woman named Esther Daggett. ²⁵¹

Abigail died on 25 December 1733 at Tisbury in Dukes County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay. ¹³³ Edward, on the other hand, appears to have died in Dukes County in 1751. ^{251,253} His will, which had been written on 2 November 1748, was probated on 22 November 1751 in Dukes County. ²⁵³

112. Rose Allen.

Rose Allen, the daughter of Joseph Allen and Sarah Holloway, was born at Dartmouth in the New Plymouth Colony on 1 October 1665. ⁹¹ She was later married in about 1684 in the New Plymouth Colony to a man named Nathaniel Howland. ^{134,135} Nathaniel, who had been born on 5 August 1657 at Duxbury in the New Plymouth Colony, was the son of Zeoth and Abigail Howland. ¹³⁵

After their marriage, Nathaniel and Rose resided at Dartmouth.¹³⁵ Beginning in 1699, Nathaniel was chosen a "Selectman" of Dartmouth, a position he held several times.¹³⁵ He also served on the Grand Jury in 1702, and as Moderator of the town meeting in 1721.¹³⁵ Nathaniel subsequently died on 3 March 1723/1724 at Dartmouth in Bristol County in what had become the Province of Massachusetts Bay.^{67,135} His will, which had been written on 25 February 1723/1724, was probated before the Bristol County Court on 16 June 1724.^{65,135} Although Rose is also believed to have died at Dartmouth, the actual date of her death has not been determined.

113. Joseph Allen.

Joseph Allen, the son of Joseph Allen and his first wife, Sarah Holloway, was born at Dartmouth in the New Plymouth Colony on 4 March 1667.⁹¹ Joseph was apparently married twice during his life. He married first in about 1698/1699 to a woman named Rachel in what had become the Province of Massachusetts Bay.^{55,136}

(NOTE: Although a number of researchers believe that Rachel's maiden name was Gifford, I personally have not been able to verify this. In addition, I am not aware of any Gifford family genealogies that recognize, or include, her as a member of the Gifford family).

After his first wife passed away, Joseph married for a second time to a woman named Jenett Ray on 17 November 1721 at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay.^{55,87} (NOTE: Although the Dartmouth marriage records indicate Jenett's maiden name was Hay or Kay, a notation citing the Bristol County Marriages, as well as information from the earliest records of the town of Dartmouth, indicate her maiden name was Ray).⁸⁷

Joseph Allen died at Dartmouth on 31 January 1734/1735.^{67,136,137} His will, which had been written on 24 December 1734, was subsequently probated in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay on 18 March 1734/1735.¹³⁷ There are no known issue from Joseph's second marriage.

114. John Allen.

John Allen, the son of Joseph Allen and his first wife, Sarah Holloway, was born at Dartmouth in the New Plymouth Colony on 15 July 1669. ⁹¹ He was later married in about 1713 to a woman named Deborah in what had become the Province of Massachusetts Bay. ^{87,136,138}

John subsequently died at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay in 1754.^{136,139} His will, which was dated 9 November 1751, was admitted for probate before the Bristol County Court on 2 July 1754.¹³⁹ Because his wife, Deborah, was not mentioned in his will, it is believed that she probably died prior to John.¹³⁹ The below children, as well as the spouses of his two daughters, were mentioned in his will.¹³⁹ John's son, Philip was named Executor.¹³⁹

115. Philip Allen.

Philip Allen, the son of Joseph Allen and his first wife, Sarah Holloway, was born at Dartmouth in the New Plymouth Colony on 3 July 1671.⁹¹ Because Philip was not mentioned in his father's will, and he has not been found in any other records, it is believed that he probably died at an early age.^{55,136}

116. William Allen.

William Allen, the son of Joseph Allen and his first wife, Sarah Holloway, was born at Dartmouth in the New Plymouth Colony on 10 August 1673.⁹¹ He was later married in about 1701/1702 in what was then the Province of Massachusetts Bay to a woman named Elizabeth.^{55,87,140} Elizabeth's name was derived from William's will and several of the marriage records of their children.⁸⁷

William subsequently died in 1760 at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay.^{136,141} His will, which had been written on 6 December 1752, was later probated on 4 November 1760.¹⁴¹ William's wife, Elizabeth, and all of the children listed below, except for Marmaduke who was already deceased, were named in William's will.¹⁴¹ His youngest son, William, however, was later mentioned in a codicil dated 30 October 1758 as being "now deceased."¹⁴¹

117. Josiah Allen.

Josiah Allen, the son of Joseph Allen and his first wife, Sarah Holloway, is believed to have been born in about 1675 at Dartmouth in the New Plymouth Colony.⁵⁵ Josiah, who apparently remained single throughout his life, died without issue at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay on 17 September 1718.^{55,136,142}

According to the Bristol County deed records, on 10 November 1719 ten of the identified heirs of Josiah Allen sold their inherited interests in his 160 acre homestead at Dartmouth to a Mr. Benjamin Wilbur of Portsmouth in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, while two others, Richard and Hannah Rundels and Reuben and Mary Allen, sold their interests on 1 December 1719 and 13 June 1720, respectively, to the same individual.²⁵⁸

118. Benjamin Allen.

Benjamin Allen, the son of Joseph Allen and his second wife, Sarah (Hull) Ridley, was born at Dartmouth in the New Plymouth Colony in about 1680.^{55,76,136} Benjamin eventually left what was then the Province of Massachusetts Bay and moved to Cecil County, Maryland, where he subsequently purchased approximately 900 acres of land from a Mr. Ephraim Herman on 29 November 1714.²⁵⁹ He later sold half of this land to his brother, Reuben Allen, on 13 January 1719/1720.²⁶⁰ Benjamin later sold his remaining Cecil County property, 160 acres in 1726 and 290 acres in 1729, at which time he is thought to have moved into the state of Pennsylvania.⁵⁵

In 1734, approximately five years after selling his Cecil County, Maryland property, Benjamin Allen, together with Riley Moore and William White, moved to the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia.⁵⁵ During the following year, 1735, Benjamin acquired two tracts of land consisting of 290 acres from Mr. Joist Hite; 170 acres of which were surveyed on 26 February 1734/1735, and 120 acres on 3 March 1734/1735.²⁶¹ This land was situated near Mt. Jackson in what is now Shenandoah County, Virginia.⁵⁵ It was on this property that he later built his water grist mill.⁵⁵ On 29 June 1739, Benjamin received a patent for an additional 400 acres of land that was situated on both sides of the North Branch of the Shenandoah River, and adjoined his other property.^{55,263}

Benjamin, who had remained single throughout his life, subsequently died intestate in about 1746/1747 in that part of Augusta County that was later formed into Shenandoah County, Virginia.^{55,136,143} Benjamin's nephew, Reuben Allen, Jr., was granted Letters of Administration to oversee Benjamin's estate on 19 February 1746/1747, after he and Thomas Moore and William White posted the necessary bond.²⁶²

119. Tristram Allen.

Tristram Allen, the son of Joseph Allen and his second wife, Sarah (Hull) Ridley, was born at Dartmouth in the New Plymouth Colony.^{55,76,136} At the present time it does not appear that Tristram ever married, or had any children.⁷⁶

Tristram is known to have resided for a time in New Jersey, where he is found in the records of both the Shrewsbury and Woodbridge Monthly Meetings of Friends.⁷⁶ When Tristram's brother, Josiah Allen, died intestate on 17 September 1718 at Dartmouth, "Tristram Allen of Woodbridge, East New Jersey, County of Monmouth" was one of the heirs who signed a deed dated 10 November 1719 selling their "ten Twelfths" interest in Josiah's 160 acre homestead to Mr. Benjamin Wilbur of Portsmouth in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations.²⁵⁸

During the month of August 1724, Tristram requested a certificate from the Woodbridge Monthly Meeting to join the Rhode Island Monthly Meeting of Friends at Newport in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations. ⁷⁶.

120. Ralph Allen.

Ralph Allen, the son of Joseph Allen and his second wife, Sarah (Hull) Ridley, was born at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the New Plymouth Colony. ^{55,136} He was later married to a woman named Amy Anthony at Portsmouth in Newport County in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations on 13 June 1716. ¹⁴⁴ Amy, who had been born at Portsmouth on the 13th day, 4th month, 1688 (13 June 1688), was the daughter of Abraham Anthony and Alice Wodell. ^{55,144}

According to a deed executed on 2 June 1773 by his son and heir, Abraham Allen, Ralph apparently died in 1772 in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations. ²⁶⁴

121. Sarah Allen.

Sarah Allen, the daughter of Joseph Allen and his second wife, Sarah (Hull) Ridley, was born at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the New Plymouth Colony.^{55,136} She was later married at Dartmouth on 24 May 1711 to a man named Jeremiah Devol (also written Davol and Davel).⁸⁷ Jeremiah was the son of Jonathan Devol and his first wife, Hannah Audley.²⁶⁵

Even though Sarah and Jeremiah resided at Rochester in Plymouth County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay for a time, they apparently remained closely connected with the Dartmouth settlement. Jeremiah died at Dartmouth on 29 November 1753.⁶⁷ His will, which was written on 24 October 1753, was admitted for probate before the Bristol County Court on 29 January 1754.²⁶⁶ Although Sarah is believed to have also died at Dartmouth in the Province of Massachusetts Bay, the actual date of her death has not been determined. The following children were named in Jeremiah's will.²⁶⁶

122. Hannah Allen.

Hannah Allen, the daughter of Joseph Allen and his second wife, Sarah (Hull) Ridley, was born at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay.^{55,136} She was later married to a man named Richard Rundels.⁹

After their marriage, Hannah and Richard resided at Shrewsbury in Monmouth County, New Jersey, where Richard worked as a carpenter.²⁵⁸ On 1 December 1719, Richard and Hannah signed over their one twelfth interest in her brother, Josiah Allen's 160 acre homestead, to Mr. Benjamin Wilbur of Portsmouth in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations.²⁵⁸ Richard and Hannah were both members of the Shrewsbury Monthly Meeting of Friends, and apparently remained members of this Meeting until their deaths. Richard Rundels was listed as being deceased in the will of George Hulett of Shrewsbury which was dated 2 July 1750.⁸¹ Although both Hannah and Richard are believed to have died in Monmouth County, New Jersey, their actual death dates have not been determined. Richard and Hannah were the parents of four daughters.⁷⁷

123. Daniel Allen.

Daniel Allen, the son of Joseph Allen and his second wife, Sarah (Hull) Ridley, was born at Dartmouth in Bristol County in what had become the Province of Massachusetts Bay. ^{55,136} This Daniel Allen is currently believed to be the same Daniel Allen who was married to a woman named Rebecca Newman in St. Joseph's Parish in Cecil County, Maryland on 9 February 1719/1720. ¹⁴⁵

Daniel eventually moved into that portion of Orange County, Virginia that was later formed into Augusta County in 1745. The last document that was found which pertained to Daniel Allen was an Augusta County, Virginia Order Book entry that was dated 18 March 1746/1747. ²⁷⁰ This entry stated: "On the Petition of Daniel Allen for Administration of the Estate of Benjamin Allen, dec'd Ordered that Reuben Allen to whom the sd. Admin. was granted be summoned to answer the sd. Petition." ²⁷⁰

Because no record has been found of Reuben Allen, Jr. appearing in court to answer this petition, and because Daniel Allen's brother, Ralph Allen, of the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations was subsequently declared to be the sole heir to Benjamin Allen's estate, it is believed that Daniel may have died shortly after filing his petition. ⁵⁵

125. Mary Allen.

Mary Allen, the daughter of Ebenezer Allen and his wife, Abigail, was born at Dartmouth in the New Plymouth Colony on 2 October 1682. ¹⁴⁷ She was later married at Dartmouth in what had become Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay to a man named Thomas Briggs on 25 April 1706. ⁸⁷ Thomas, who had been born at Dartmouth on 27 April 1684, was the son of Thomas Briggs and Mary Fisher. ^{147,188}

Thomas Briggs subsequently died in 1734 in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay. ²⁷⁶ His will, which had been written on 28 March 1734, was probated before the Bristol County Court on 21 May 1734. ²⁷⁶ All of the children listed below were named in the will of Thomas Briggs. ²⁷⁶ Although it is believed that Mary also died in Bristol County, the actual date of her death has not been determined.

126. Phillip Allen.

Phillip Allen, the son of Ebenezer Allen and his wife, Abigail, was born at Dartmouth in the New Plymouth Colony on 28 February 1684. ¹⁴⁷ He was later married in about 1715 in what had become the Province of Massachusetts Bay to a woman named Mary Mosher. ^{148,149} Mary, who had been born on 16 December 1695 at Tiverton in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations (now within Newport County, Rhode Island), was the daughter of Nicholas Mosher and Elizabeth Audley. ^{148,149}

Phillip and Mary Allen eventually moved to New York, where they settled in Dutchess County.¹⁴⁸ Phillip subsequently died on 10 December 1752 in Dutchess County, New York.¹⁴⁸ Mary, on the other hand, was still residing in Dutchess County in 1769 when she was mentioned in the records of the Merritt store.¹⁴⁸

127. Zebulon Allen.

Zebulon Allen, the son of Ebenezer and Abigail Allen, was born at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the New Plymouth Colony on 26 May 1687. ¹⁴⁷ No additional information has been found concerning this individual.

(NOTE: Although at least one genealogy states that Zebulon married his niece, Hannah Allen, the daughter of his brother, Ebenezer Allen, this is not correct. The Zebulon Allen who married Hannah Allen was the son of James Allen and Mary Akin).

128. Ebenezer Allen.

Ebenezer Allen, the son of Ebenezer and Abigail Allen, was born at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the New Plymouth Colony on 16 January 1690/1691. ¹⁴⁷ He was later married in what was then the Province of Massachusetts Bay to a woman named Margaret Williams. ¹⁴⁸

Ebenezer Allen died in 1778 in Dutchess County, New York. ¹⁴⁸ His will, which had been written on 1 March 1759, was subsequently probated on 3 November 1778. ¹⁴⁸

129. Sarah Allen.

Sarah Allen, the daughter of Ebenezer and Abigail Allen, was born at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay on 9 June 1692. ¹⁴⁷ She was later married at Dartmouth to a man named David Akin in about 1711. ^{128,148,150} David, who was born at Dartmouth in the New Plymouth Colony on 19 September 1689, was the son of Captain John Akin and Mary Briggs. ^{128,147,151,286} He was also the brother of the Thomas Akin who married Sarah's sister, Abigail Allen, and of Mary Akin who married Sarah's brother, James Allen. ^{128,147,151,286}

On 15 January 1742, David and Sarah requested a certificate from the New Bedford Monthly Meeting of Friends to move to Oblong (Quaker Hill) in Dutchess County, New York, where they apparently resided for the remainder of their lives. ¹⁵² David died at Quaker Hill near Pawling in Dutchess County on 7 April 1779. ¹⁵¹ Although Sarah is known to have survived David, and is believed to have also died in Dutchess County, New York, the actual date of her death has not been determined. ¹⁵¹ David Akin's will, which had been written on 5 February 1774, does not appear to have ever been probated. ^{152,286} Both David and Sarah were subsequently buried in the Quaker Cemetery at Quaker Hill in Dutchess County, New York. ¹⁵¹

With the exception of their daughter Sarah, who apparently died young, all of the other children shown below were named in David Akin's will.¹⁵²

130. James Allen.

James Allen, the son of Ebenezer and Abigail Allen, was born at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay on 30 November 1695. ^{1,147} He was later married in the Province of Massachusetts Bay to a woman named Mary Akin. ^{148,152} Mary, who had been born at Dartmouth on 23 January 1697/1698, was the daughter of Captain John Akin and Mary Briggs. ^{147,286} She was also the sister of the David Akin who married Sarah Allen, and the Thomas Akin who married Abigail Allen, both being sisters of James Allen. ^{147,286}

James Allen died at Dartmouth in the Province of Massachusetts Bay in 1770. ¹⁵³ His will, which had been written on 4 April 1767, was later probated on 29 April 1771 before the Bristol County Court. ^{1,153} An inventory of James Allen's estate, which had been ordered by the Bristol County Court on 1 January 1771, was also submitted to the Court on 29 April 1771, the date his will was probated. ¹⁵³ Unfortunately, the date and place of Mary's death have not been determined. 131. Hannah Allen.

Hannah Allen, the daughter of Ebenezer and Abigail Allen, was born at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay on 10 August 1697.¹⁴⁷ She was later married at Dartmouth to a man named Isaac Howland on 19 December 1717.⁸⁷ Isaac, who had been born at Dartmouth on 30 January 1694/1695, was the son of Benjamin Howland and Judith Sampson.¹⁴⁷

Hannah subsequently died at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay on 28 June 1736, while Isaac died there approximately 42 years later on 22 November 1778.⁶⁷ Isaac's will, which was written on 12 December 1758, was later probated in Bristol County on 6 October 1778.²⁹⁶

132. Seth Allen.

Seth Allen, the son of Ebenezer and Abigail Allen, was born at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay on 28 July 1703. ^{1,147,148} Seth was apparently married twice during his life. He married first on 11 January 1725/1726 to a woman named Elizabeth Butler at Sandwich in Barnstable County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay. ^{19,87} This marriage was also recorded at Dartmouth in Bristol County. ⁸⁷ Elizabeth, who had been born on 5 May 1707 at Sandwich in Barnstable County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay, was the daughter of Obediah and Elizabeth Butler. ^{19,89,301} Seth and Elizabeth apparently resided at Dartmouth for a number of years after their marriage, as two of their children are known to have been born there. ¹⁴⁷

After his first wife passed away, Seth married on 4 October 1741 for a second time to a woman named Anne Whitely at New Bedford in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay. ¹⁵⁴ Anne was the daughter of John Whitely and his first wife. ³⁰³ Based upon information presented in Volume II of "Settlers of the Beekman Patent" by Frank J. Doherty, it appears that both Seth and his second wife, Anne, had passed away in Dutchess County, New York prior to 1755. ¹⁴⁸ This entry indicated that on 10 December 1755 a guardianship order had been granted to "Daniel Russell of Dartmouth, Clothier," to be the guardian of Seth's three youngest children; namely Henry, Elizabeth and Lydia. ¹⁴⁸

133. Abigail Allen.

Abigail Allen, the daughter of Ebenezer and Abigail Allen, was born at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay on 16 December 1705. ¹⁴⁷ She was later married at Dartmouth to a man named Thomas Akin on 10 August 1727. ⁸⁷ Thomas, who had been born at Dartmouth on 29 March 1702, was the son of Captain John Akin and Mary Briggs. ^{147,286} He was also the brother of the David Akin who married Abigail's sister, Sarah Allen, and of Mary Akin who married Abigail's brother, James Allen. ^{147,286}

Although Thomas and Abigail remained at Dartmouth for about 12 years after their marriage, they are known to have been residing at Perth Amboy in Middlesex County, New Jersey by 1739, as their son, Stephen Akin, was born there in July of that year. ¹⁵² Even though Thomas Akin and his son, Stephen, are known to have moved to Nova Scotia, Canada in about 1760, there is some question as to whether or not Abigail went with them. ^{1,152} Information provided by Robert L. Akin in his "Akin Family History" suggests that Abigail remained at Perth Amboy, New Jersey where she kept a girls school, and later died in 1767. ¹⁵² Thomas, on the other hand, died at Falmouth in Hants County, Nova Scotia, Canada in 1775. ¹⁵²

136. Susannah Allen.

Susannah Allen, the daughter of Increase and Rachel Allen, was born at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the New Plymouth Colony on 4 February 1689/1690. ¹⁴⁷ She was later married to a man named William Shearman (also written Sherman). ^{147,148} William, who was a cordwainer (shoemaker) by trade, is believed to have been born at Dartmouth in about 1687. ¹⁴⁷

Because Susannah was not mentioned in William Shearman's will, which had been written on 20 January 1776, she probably died at Dartmouth prior to that date.³¹³ William, on the other hand, is said to have died at Dartmouth in 1780, however I personally have not been able to confirm this.³¹³

137. Jedediah Allen.

Jedediah Allen, the son of Increase and Rachel Allen, was born at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the New Plymouth Colony on 22 March 1691.¹⁴⁷ He was later married at Newport in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations to a woman named Penelope Tripp on 2 June 1721.²⁴ Penelope, who was the daughter of Otheniel Tripp and Mary Potter, had been born on 18 January 1699/1700 at North Kingstown in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations.¹⁸¹

Jedediah Allen died at Dartmouth on 26 December 1744.^{67,148} Although Edward Springer of Dartmouth was subsequently appointed guardian of Jedediah's four minor children on 12 July 1751, he petitioned to be dismissed from this responsibility.¹⁴⁸ Jedediah's brother, Increase, was subsequently appointed guardian in Edward Springer's place on 19 September 1751.^{148,314}

After Jedediah passed away, Penelope married for a second time, also at Dartmouth, to a man named Barnabas Howland on 16 April 1750.¹⁴⁸ Barnabas was the son of Benjamin and Judith Howland.¹⁴⁸

138. Rachel Allen.

Rachel Allen, the daughter of Increase Allen and his wife, Rachel, was born at Dartmouth in Bristol County in what had recently become the Province of Massachusetts Bay on 8 January 1692/1693. ¹⁴⁷ She was later married at Dartmouth to a man named William Soule on 19 March 1717/1718. ^{87,148} William, who had been born at Dartmouth on 28 August 1692, was the son of William and Hannah Soule. ¹⁴⁷ (NOTE: Although William's mother is often identified as Hannah Brewster, apparently the Mayflower Society no longer acknowledges this to be accurate).

William and Rachel eventually settled at Tiverton in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay. (NOTE: Tiverton was transferred to the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations in 1747). William Soule appears to have passed away at Tiverton in 1734, as Rachel Soule "widow" was made administrator of William's estate on 28 October 1734. ¹⁵⁷ Although Rachel is known to have survived William, her date and place of death have not been determined. ¹⁵⁷

144. Pasuel Allen.

Pasuel Allen, the son of Zachariah Allen and his wife, whose name is not known, was probably born at Dartmouth.^{68,158} Unfortunately, it is not known at this time if Pasuel ever married, or if he did marry, to whom.

On 26 April 1714, Pasuel, who was a husbandman (farmer) by trade, was deeded 100 acres of land at Westerly in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations by his father, Zachariah Allen.¹⁵⁸ He subsequently sold these lands to a man named Samuel Perry on 3 September 1715.¹⁵⁸ Pasuel was later mentioned in his father's will which was dated 23 June 1716.⁶⁸ Pasuel's older brother, Zachariah, who was Executor of their father's estate, was to pay him five shillings.⁶⁸ Aside from the above, little else has been found concerning this individual.

145. Peter Allen.

Peter Allen, the son of Zachariah Allen and his wife, whose name is not known, was probably born at Dartmouth.^{68,158} Unfortunately, it is not known at this time if Peter ever married, or if he did marry, to whom. Peter was later mentioned in his father's will which was dated 23 June 1716.⁶⁸

On 28 June 1725, Peter, along with his brother, Oliver, jointly received a deed for a 50 acre tract of land at Westerly in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations by their father, Zachariah Allen.¹⁵⁸ On 5 June 1727, Oliver sold his share to Peter who subsequently sold the entire parcel to Benjamin Wing on 30 March 1728.¹⁵⁸ According to this last deed, Peter, who was listed as being a weaver by trade, was residing at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay.¹⁵⁸ Aside from the above, little else has been found concerning this individual.

146. Oliver Allen.

Oliver Allen, the son of Zachariah Allen and his wife, whose name is not known, was probably born at Dartmouth.^{68,158} Unfortunately, it is not known at this time if Oliver ever married, or if he did marry, to whom. Oliver was later mentioned in his father's will which was dated 23 June 1716.⁶⁸

On 28 June 1725, Oliver, along with his brother, Peter, jointly received a deed for a 50 acre tract of land at Westerly in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations by their father, Zachariah Allen.¹⁵⁸ On 5 June 1727, Oliver sold his share to Peter who subsequently sold the entire parcel to Benjamin Wing on 30 March 1728.¹⁵⁸ When Oliver sold his share of the 50 acre parcel to his brother in 1727, the deed indicated that he was a husbandman (farmer) by trade, and was residing at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay.¹⁵⁸ Aside from the above, little else has been found concerning this individual.

147. Mercy Allen.

Mercy Allen, the daughter of Zachariah Allen and his wife, whose name is not known, was probably born at Dartmouth.⁶⁸ No additional information has been found concerning this individual.

148. Susannah Allen.

Susannah Allen, the daughter of Zachariah Allen and his wife, whose name is not known, was probably born at Dartmouth.^{68,158} According to her father's will, which had been written on 23 June 1716, Susannah was married to a man whose last name was Handson.⁶⁸ No additional information has been found concerning this couple.

155. Caleb Allen.

Caleb Allen, the son of Caleb Allen and Elizabeth Sisson, was born at Sandwich in the New Plymouth Colony on 20 March 1683/1684. ^{19,89} He was later married in New Jersey to a woman named Frances Cammack. ^{9,76} Frances, who had been born at Shrewsbury in Monmouth County in the Province of East Jersey, was the daughter of Nathaniel and Mary Cammack (also written Cammock). ⁷⁶

After their marriage, Caleb and Frances resided at Shrewsbury in Monmouth County, New Jersey. Caleb subsequently died at Shrewsbury in 1713. ⁶³ His will, which had been written on 20 May 1713, was probated on 3 June 1713 before the Monmouth County Court. ⁶³ Because Frances was identified as being the "sole heiress" of Caleb Allen's estate, it is believed that Caleb and Frances did not have any children. ⁶³

156. Elizabeth Allen.

Elizabeth Allen, the daughter of Caleb Allen and Elizabeth Sisson, was born at Sandwich in Barnstable County in the New Plymouth Colony on 3 December 1685. ^{19,89} No additional information has been found concerning this individual.

157. James Allen.

James Allen, the son of Caleb Allen and Elizabeth Sisson, was born at Sandwich in Barnstable County in the New Plymouth Colony on 17 June 1689. ^{19,89} No additional information has been found concerning this individual.

158. Joseph Allen.

Joseph Allen, the son of Judah Allen and Mary Wooley, is believed to have been born at Shrewsbury in the Province of East Jersey.^{63.76} No additional information has been found concerning this individual.

159. Mary Allen.

Mary Allen, the daughter of Judah Allen and Mary Wooley, is believed to have been born at Shrewsbury in the Province of East Jersey.^{63.76} She was later married at the Shrewsbury Monthly Meeting of Friends in Monmouth County in the Province of East Jersey to a man named Thomas French on 3 December 1696.⁷⁹ Thomas, who had been born in 1667, was subsequently christened in the Church of Saints Peter and Paul at Nether Heyford, England on 31 October 1667.³³⁴ He was the son of Thomas French and Jane Atkins.³³⁴

After their marriage, Thomas and Mary resided on a 300 acre farm that was given to Thomas by his father in 1694.³³⁴ This farm was located a short distance northwest of Moorestown in Burlington County, New Jersey.³³⁴ Mary died in Burlington County, New Jersey in about 1730/1731.⁷⁶

After Mary passed away, Thomas married in Burlington County for a second time to a widow named Mary (Pearce) Cattell on 9 October 1732.³³⁴ Mary had previously been married to a man named Jonas Cattell.³³⁴ Thomas subsequently died in Burlington County, New Jersey in 1745.³³⁴ His will, which had been written on 26 August 1745, was probated before the Burlington County Court on 1 November 1745.

187. Hannah Allen.

Hannah Allen, the daughter of Daniel Allen and Bathshua Hoxie, was born at Sandwich in Barnstable County in the New Plymouth Colony on 2 June 1688. ^{19,173} Hannah was apparently married four times during her life. She married first at Sandwich to a man named Stephen Wanton on 10 September 1706. ¹⁷⁴ Stephen, who had been born at Scituate in the New Plymouth Colony on 5 March 1682, was the son of Edward and Mary Wanton. ¹⁷⁴

Stephen died at Scituate in Plymouth County in what had become the Province of Massachusetts Bay on 25 June 1709.¹⁷⁴ After Stephen passed away, Hannah married secondly at Scituate to a man named James Barker on 2 October 1710.¹⁷⁴ James Barker appears to have died in about 1718, as Hannah is found marrying for a third time on 31 August 1719 to a man named Isaac Barker at Pembroke in Plymouth County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay.¹⁷⁵ Isaac Barker subsequently died at Pembroke on 5 December 1725.¹⁷⁵

After her third husband, Isaac, passed away, Hannah married for a fourth time, also at Pembroke, to a man named Jacob Norton on 8 June 1727.¹⁷⁵ Jacob was a resident of Chilmark in Dukes County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay at the time of their marriage.¹⁷⁵ Although no issue have been found from Hannah's last three marriages, it is possible that there may have been some.

Lydia Allen, the daughter of Daniel Allen and Bathshua Hoxie, was born at Sandwich in Barnstable County, in the Province of Massachusetts Bay on 30 April 1692.¹⁷³ No additional information has been found concerning this individual.

189. Cornelius Allen.

Cornelius Allen, the son of Daniel Allen and his wife, Bathshua Hoxie, was born at Sandwich in Barnstable County in what had recently become the Province of Massachusetts Bay on 22 May 1694.¹⁷³ Cornelius was apparently married three times during his life. He married first on 27 September 1716 to a woman named Elizabeth Clarke at Sandwich.^{53,173} Elizabeth appears to have died at Sandwich in 1727, or early 1728, possibly due to complications associated with childbirth.¹⁷³

After Elizabeth passed away, Cornelius married for a second time, also at Sandwich, to a woman named Dorothy Allen on 22 August 1728.¹⁷³ Dorothy, who was Cornelius Allen's cousin, had been born on 4 July 1706 at Sandwich.¹⁹ She was the daughter of Richard Allen and Hannah Butler.¹⁶²

After Dorothy passed away, Cornelius married for a third time to a widow named Anne (Spooner) Hatch.¹⁷⁵ This marriage took place on 7 February 1749 at Pembroke in Plymouth County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay.¹⁷⁵ Anne, who had been born at Dartmouth in Bristol County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay on 18 April 1700, was the daughter of Samuel and Experience Spooner, and the widow of James Hatch of Hanover in Plymouth County.^{147,173} There were no issue from Cornelius Allen's third marriage.

Cornelius Allen died in 1766 in Barnstable County, in the Province of Massachusetts Bay.^{89,176} His will, which had been written on 25 April 1756, was probated in Barnstable County on 1 July 1766.¹⁷⁶

190. Daniel Allen.

Daniel Allen, the son of Daniel Allen and Bathshua Hoxie, was born at Sandwich in Barnstable County in the Province of Massachusetts Bay on 30 June 1701. ¹⁷³ He was later married on 8 March 1722 at Sandwich to a woman named Elizabeth Allen, who was his cousin. ¹⁹ Elizabeth, who had been born on 21 September 1702 at Sandwich, was the daughter of Richard Allen and Hannah Butler. ^{19,173} She was also the sister of the Dorothy Allen who married Daniel's brother Cornelius Allen. ^{89,173}

According to "One Hundred and Sixty Allied Families" by John Austin, Elizabeth died at Sandwich in the Province of Massachusetts Bay on 5 November 1765, while Daniel died there on 6 September 1773. ⁸⁹

NOTE: In addition to the above Daniel Allen, who was married to Elizabeth Allen, the daughter of Richard Allen and Hannah Butler, there was another Daniel Allen, Elizabeth's brother, who was married to a woman named Elizabeth Hoxie. Both Daniel's were married at Sandwich in 1722. In an attempt to differentiate these two Daniel's the records refer to one as Daniel the younger or youngest, or as Daniel, Jr. Unfortunately, however, these records do not specify which Daniel this is. Because the above Daniel Allen is the son of a Daniel Allen, and because he was born nearly two years after Daniel Allen, the son of Richard and Hannah, I am assuming that the above Daniel Allen is Daniel, Jr.

191. Deborah Allen.

Deborah Allen, the eldest daughter of George Allen and his wife, Elizabeth Hulett, was born on 4 September 1694 at Shrewsbury in Monmouth County in the Province of East Jersey. ¹⁶⁶ She was later married on 13 July 1717 to a man named Adam Brewer (also written Brouwer) in Kings County, New York. ¹⁷⁸ Adam, who had been christened in the D.R.C. at Brooklyn in Kings County, New York on 29 March 1696, is believed, although not proven beyond doubt, to be the son of Jacobus Brouwer and Annetje Bogardus. ¹⁷⁸

Deborah apparently died in about 1741 in Monmouth County, New Jersey, as Adam was issued a marriage license on 12 January 1742/1743 to marry in New Jersey for a second time to a woman named Catherine Mitchell. ¹⁷⁹ And, after Catherine passed away, Adam was issued a marriage license on 22 August 1761 to marry in New Jersey for a third time to a widow named Mary (Davis) Curtis. ¹⁷⁹ Mary was the widow of John Curtis who died in Monmouth County in 1761. ^{179,342}

Adam Brewer died at Farmingdale in Monmouth County, New Jersey in 1769. ³⁴² His will, which had been written on 22 August 1768, was subsequently probated in Monmouth County on 15 March 1769. ³⁴²
