It is not clear what happened to this family for the 1880 Census. So me of the children were apparently split up and sent to relatives or frien ds. At least one researcher indicates that the father was still alive a nd apparently living in Richland county although there is no record of eit her parent in the 1880 census. Emma (also apparently called Addie) and Wil liam were sent to live with their grandmother, Margaret Fleming. Charles w as living with another family in Richland county as their servant at age 1 3. The whereabouts of the remaining three children, Margaret, Viola, and A ustin, and the parents are not known.

Marriage Notes for George Walters and Mary Simpson:
 [Solomon Walters.ged]

After George died in 1873, the children were split up and sent to relatives and friends. Several were sent to Crawford County: Idora was living with her uncle, John Walters and family; Luella was living with and working for Mary C. Oldfield and family; if Ada went by her middle name of Laura, then she was living with Phillip Eichorn and wife. The exact relationships to any of these other families is not known.

I can find no definitive record in the 1880 Census for sons, Frank, John, Elmore, and daughters, Carrie, and Cora.

Meanwhile, Mary and her youngest daughter, Lulu, remained in Richland County and were living at the house of Albert Hoover. The exact relationship between Mary and Albert is not known.

NOTE - Based on the real estate holdings of Elias Dull, he was by all means a very wealthy farmer. John L. Hileman's wife is Harriet Dull, a daughter of Elias and they were living with her parents. I am unable to determine just who the young Mary England from Canada was. The last name on the census list is entered by the enumerator first using a solid line to indicate the same surname as the previous line plus the name "Walters J. W.", a ll of which would indicate a full name of "Walters J. W. England". If this person at age 19 is a brother to Mary England at age 10, then it doesn't make sense why he was born in Indiana but she was born in Canada. However, I believe the straight line in front of his name is a mistake by the enumerator and the person's real name is "J. W. Walters". Elias' wife was Jane Walters and she had a brother named "Wesley J. Walters". Wesley's birth year is supposed to be 1845 making his age for this census about 25 instead of the 19 entered on this record. And Wesley was just married and living with his wife and baby just a few houses away from Jane. Otherwise I cannot find no other relative to fit that name. [Brian L. Lightfoot]
